SUNDAY OPEN HOUSE — Scenic Hargus Lake at A. W. Marion State Park will play a part in an official open house Sunday, April 27, which will be observed in all State of Ohio recreation areas. All persons are invited to share in the facilities provided in Pickaway County at the park. These include picnic grounds, boating and fishing which according to Kenneth Kingery, park manager, is "real good".

Daylight Saving Time Arrives Early Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Except for three states, the nation will start daylight saving time at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Hawaii, Arizona and Michigan will remain by local law on standard time while most Americans turn their clocks ahead one hour.

That, at least, is the general picture. But a few states are special cases, and Indiana is probably the most special of all.

Indiana is divided by a time zone line, with about half the counties in the eastern time zone and the rest in the central zone.

Come Sunday the line dividing the time zones will be shifted to the west, leaving only two pockets of six counties each, near Chicago and Louisville, Ky., in the central zone.

This means that in a large part of the state residents will push their clocks ahead one hour to conform with daylight saving time and another hour if (Continued on Page 16)

Flood Crest To Reach Illinois Soon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A flood crest moved down the Mississippi River between Iowa and Illinois today as residents of the towns along the way feverishly inspected the dikes which so far have kept the river on course.

A crest of 23.1 feet recorded at Dubuque, Iowa, Wednesday had receded to 23 Thursday. Flood stage is 17 feet.

A crest of 21.2 was expected Saturday at Clinton, Iowa, where the river had reached 21.1 feet Thursday. Flood stage is 14.8 feet.

At Davenport, Iowa, a weekend crest of 19 feet was expected, with a reading of 18.8 Thursday. Flood stage is 15 feet.

National Guard units, city officials and volunteers patrolled the dikes in all three cities around the clock.

Total damage since the waters began rising across the Midwest stood at more than $110 million. The Army Corps of Engineers said emergency dike construction prevented an additional $145-million loss in areas where the flood threat has ended.

The Quad Cities area was expected to feel the Mississippi's next crest. The cities—Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport and Bettendorf, Iowa—have a combined population of 215,000, making it the largest population center on the river between St. Paul, Minn., and St. Louis.

The flood threat appeared to be over in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Rhodes Education Tax Plan Dead As Money Is 'Found'

Bomb Threat Caller Convicted; CHS Gets 'Prank' Phone Message

A bomb threat to the Circleville High School Friday morning came on the heels of the Thursday conviction of George Linder Jr., Route 1, Orient, for threatening Owens-Illinois.

The threat to the high school was received by Don Poling about 7:45 a.m. The school was evacuated while local police, teaching staff and members of the board of education searched the school. Classes resumed at 9:45 a.m.

Linder confessed in Municipal Court Thursday afternoon to the charge of calling Owens-Illinois Tuesday evening and stating that there was a bomb planted in the building.

The 18-year-old youth was sentenced by Judge Sterling Lamb to six months in jail, and a $500 fine. The court suspended three months of the jail sentence, placed him on probation for three years and ordered that he receive psychiatric treatment.

AT THE trial, Linder also admitted that he had made similar calls to DuPont and General Electric since February. General Electric and Owens-Illinois evacuated their plants when informed of the threats.

The threat to Owens-Illinois was received about 9:35 p.m. Tuesday by Jim Frommel of Circleville. Frommel stated that he answered the phone and someone said that a bomb was set to go off in the plant. The conversation was recorded on tape.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff was informed of the call and went to the local plant. With the help of General Telephone Company, the call was traced to the offices of the State Highway Patrol, where Linder was employed as a dispatcher.

The taped message was compared with Linder's voice for identification.

The 18-year-old dispatcher submitted to a lie detector test given by the State Patrol in Columbus. Following the test, he was permitted to resign.

Linder, who had been employed by the sheriff's department until December, 1968, stated that he made the call because of the feuding between the sheriff and patrol.

"THE sheriff and state patrol are always bickering back and forth and I wanted them (sheriff's office) to take time out," Linder told Judge Lamb.

He was asked by Judge Lamb if his reason for doing this was based on any grudge he held against the sheriff's department and he answered yes.

Under continued questioning by the judge, he admitted that he would have continued the telephone calls indefinitely if he had not been caught.

George Linder Sr., ex-chief deputy of the sheriff's department and currently head of security at Orient State Institute, asked Judge Lamb to release his son to him. The court declined the request.

Lamb stated that as yet the other companies have not filed charges against the youth and that if the court was too lenient in its punishment, the plants might bring new cases.

Linder was taken to the county jail for incarceration.

Refiguring Uncovers $110 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess has officially backed away from the administration's education-tax package with the announcement of "no new taxes" to finance education in the state over the next two years.

Gov. James A. Rhodes made the same move a week ago, abandoning the taxes in the administration proposal introduced just two weeks ago because of public reaction.

"We're cooling it," Rhodes said then.

Kurfess, R-4 Perrysburg, told a news conference Thursday that he felt high priority education items and an expansion of vocational-technical education would not have to be abandoned.

He has said all along that he did not feel it would be necessary to adopt new state taxes for education programs.

Kurfess explained that the House Republican leadership has found roughly $110 million in unanticipated state revenue over the next two years.

He explained that on Feb. 23 the legislative auditor began reviewing general fund balances and last week informed the House leadership that about $75 million will accrue from year end balances over the next two years.

The Speaker also said there will be an additional $35 million available from "markups" in liquor prices.

Under a law passed last session, there can be up to a 35 per cent markup on liquor. At present, the state has a 30 per cent markup.

State Finance Director Howard L. Collier later said the estimated additional amounts of revenue announced by Kurfess "are realistic."

Collier said the freeze on new state employment institute two months ago and additional austerity measures should provide nearly a $30 million surplus in the general fund at the end of this fiscal year.

Of this surplus, about $5 million a year would remain in the general fund to serve as a cushion. (Continued on Page 2)

Train Derails, Catches Fire In Indiana

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Fires, explosions and streams of dangerous chemicals trailed a three-mile-long train derailed today between East Germantown and Cambridge City in east central Indiana.

The 250 residents of East Germantown, 8 miles west of Richmond, were evacuated because of puddles of chemicals which sent clouds of invisible fumes through the town.

Newsmen at the scene said the derailed freight cars were mostly piled in three heaps. A spectacular fire was confined to one pile of about 20 cars a quarter-mile east of East Germantown. The engine and 21 cars were able to continue on into Richmond.

A Penn Central railroad spokesman said 39 cars were burning, but only two contained chemicals. One was filled with liquefied ethylene and the other contained butadiene, he said.

Firemen from Richmond, Hagerstown, Milton and Dublin laid hoses from a creek to fight the blaze. A liquid leaking from an upside-down tank car exploded periodically. A burning tank car of soybean oil sent up a column of smoke visible for miles along main east-west artery U.S. 40, which was blocked.

Detective Sgt. Don Petro of the state police ordered firemen not to hose down puddles of fuming chemicals from a car labeled butyl acrylate until experts arrived from the Indiana State Board of Health. There was a question of whether washing the liquid into a nearby creek would pollute the stream.

A car of vinyl chloride, called especially dangerous by state troopers, also was involved in the pileup.

No buildings were damaged or set afire by the strung-out wreck but Sheriff H. D. McCann of Wayne County said he evacuated the town 15 minutes after the accident because of the fumes. He sent a special unit of horse-mounted deputies to keep spectators away from the scene.

Wheeler Discloses Response By Fighters

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said today U.S. fighter planes were headed for the Sea of Japan 14 minutes after a Navy spy plane was shot down by North Korean MIG fighters.

Wheeler told a House armed services subcommittee inquiring into any coordination lapses in U.S. intelligence missions the fighter aircraft flew from bases in South Korea.

Hold Artist In 'Execution' Of 3 Persons

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Detectives booked an artist for homicide investigation today in the execution-style slayings of two pretty teen-age girls and a young man who shared a hippie district flat.

The man arrested was identified as Robert Jahmelik, 35, of San Francisco. Police said he apparently was the last person to see the trio alive. Their bodies were found Thursday morning in a second-floor apartment.

Coroner Henry Turkel said the girls were kneeling in line on the dirty floor, one in front of the other, when each was shot once in the temple Thursday.

The young man apparently was standing nearby in the kitchenette when a bullet struck his forehead, Turkel said.

He identified the victims as Cindy Marie Taylor, 19, of suburban Daly City; Margaret Jo Fochtman, 19, of Bay Village, Ohio, a Cleveland suburb, and William J. Oswald Jr., 24, son of a Concord, Calif., doctor.

"All we can say is that it looks like an execution," said Lt. Robert McKiernan.

Amanda Break-In

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Postal inspectors and sheriff's deputies were called to the post office at Amanda, eight miles south of here in Fairfield County today to investigate a burglary. The front door of the post office had been broken and two safes opened. Extent of the loss was not immediately determined.

Premier Quits In Lebanon

Country Split Over Guerrillas

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Premier Rashid Karami met today with President Charles Helou and told newsmen afterward Helou had accepted his resignation. He hedged when asked if the president would ask him to form a new Cabinet but he urged that a coalition government be formed.

Karami resigned Thursday night after four months in office, saying the country was split over whether Lebanon should become a base for Arab guerrilla action against Israel.

Karami was asked after his visit to Helou if the president would tap him again. He replied:

"The question (of the guerrillas) is now more important than personalities. It concerns the future and fate of the entire country. There must be cooperation between all persons."

With the country tense after two days of rioting in which 16 persons have been killed and nearly 100 wounded, Karami told a special session of Parliament that some persons advised him to give unqualified support to the Palestinian guerrillas. He said others warned such support would provoke Israeli reprisals.

The rioters were mostly Palestinian refugees demanding that the government give full support to the Arab guerrilla organizations which have been raiding Israel. Karami said he had tried to help the guerrillas without endangering Lebanon's security. Despite pressure from the 160,000 refugees in the country, the government generally has tried to avoid involvement in the Arab-Israeli fighting.

The crisis threatened to cause a major split between Lebanon's Moslem and Christian communities, which are roughly equal in size and divided the posts of political leadership according to a detailed formula.

Jemison Faces New Execution Date—June 6

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A new execution date — June 6 — was set today for convicted slayer Richard Howard Jemison of Columbus.

The date was set by Common Pleas Judge Myron Gessman and Leonard Stern, who previously turned down his post conviction appeal.

Gov. James A. Rhodes has said that if either the Ohio House or the Senate acts on a pending bill to put the question of the death penalty up to the voters of Ohio, he would grant reprieves to condemned men until the issue is resolved. He has refused Jemison executive clemency.

Jemison was convicted of the murder of his wife, Virginia, at their home May 10, 1965. He also was charged but not tried on a charge of slaying a Columbus pharmacist on the same date.

Du Pont Plant Manager Is Promoted

Foster Transferred; Haradon To Head Local Operation

Samuel P. Foster, manager of the DuPont Company's plant at Circleville, has accepted appointment as product manager for "Mylar" polyester films at company headquarters in Wilmington, Del., and will be succeeded at Circleville by Myron R. Haradon, who is presently manager of the company plant at Tecumseh, Kansas.

Foster came to Circleville in 1962 as technical superintendent. He became assistant plant manager in 1966, and plant manager in 1968.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce, serving as chairman of the educational committee and the Rotary Club of Circleville, serving as chairman of their Pickaway Blood Program committee. His wife Dorothy and two children, Diana and Brian, live at 3 Yorkshire Court. (Continued on Page 2)

Boy Still Critical From Spider Bite

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Doctors said they would know today how effective a serum, flown 5,500 miles to Cleveland from Brazil, has been on Todd Quester, 5, in a coma for five days believed due to a spider bite.

Doctors at University Hospital said Thursday the Amherst child's chances of surviving had been less than 50-50 before the serum arrived and that the odds weren't improved much by the antitoxin.

Auto Insurance Probers Hear Complaints

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate probe of the auto insurance industry has resulted in a stream of complaints from car owners, charging their policies were canceled for odd, vague or flimsy reasons—including alleged bad "personal habits."

In one instance a man was denied coverage on grounds he gambled and raised gamecocks. Another policy was cancelled because: "Your wife's reputation does not meet our underwriting standards."

The Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee will delve into such cases at a public hearing next month, with the centerpiece the troubles of Gerald D. Huey of Stafford, Va.

Huey learned Feb. 19 his policy would not be renewed by Royal Indemnity Co. "because of unfavorable information we have received concerning personal habits within your household."

He got another policy, but it was canceled without explanation.

"Scores of similar cases came to our attention," said subcommittee Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich. Dean E. Sharp, assistant counsel to the panel, said the complaints are still coming.

Several auto insurance cancellations stirred controversy in recent months. One man, whose home had been visited by an insurance company representative, received a cancellation notice which said "it is alleged that your house is filthy."

A cab driver who lost his policy was told by the company: "The specific reason for refusal cannot be given as it is regarded as confidential."

Another protest comes from a man at Big Stone Gap, Va., whose son was involved in an accident. The other driver was ruled at fault. Both cars were insured by the same company.

The father refused a $100 settlement, and again rejected an offer of $750. Finally, the claim was settled for $1,500.

Then, on Jan. 4, 1968, this notice arrived: "Your automobile insurance is being terminated because of your lack of cooperation and assistance in settlement of your claim..."

A Bowie, Md., man who said he paid more than $650 in premiums to an insurance company over seven years told of being threatened with cancellation after he filed two claims totaling $43.53.

While reasons for cancellation vary, investigators have found many are issued after a company receives reports about the reputation or habits of a driver or his family.

Sharp said the subcommittee has no national figures on the cancellation rate.

At an earlier hearing, the committee got an accounting of appeals to the insurance commission in South Carolina. That agency ruled the reasons for cancellation valid in only 55 cases out of 244 appeals it received over a 23-month period.

Warning Signals Of Cancer Can Save Many Lives

If every American recognized and acted promptly upon the discovery of cancer's warning signals, thousands of lives could be saved every year, Dr. William A. Myers of the Pickaway County Unit of the American Cancer Society stated in a recent interview.

"The seven warning signs of cancer," Dr. Myers pointed out, "are somewhat like a ship's radar to warn of danger. The American Cancer Society, he said, urges all citizens to familiarize themselves with cancer's warning signals to help reduce the number of fatal cancer cases."

Dr. Myers explained that the survival rate from cancer today is one out of three cases, "but with our knowledge of the disease increasing each year, we know that we could save one out of two, provided detection of the disease was early and the treatment prompt," he noted.

CANCER'S seven warning signs are: Unusual bleeding or discharge; a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; a sore that does not heal; change in bowel or bladder habits; hoarseness or cough; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing and change in size or color of a wart or mole.

Should any of these signals last longer than two weeks, Dr. Myers urged a prompt visit to the doctor. Only he can tell if cancer is present.

Dr. Myers' remarks were made as the Cancer Society launched its 1969 cancer crusade, the slogan for which is "Help yourself with a checkup and others with a check."

Westfall Board Accepts 8 Teacher Resignations

The Westfall School District Board of Education accepted eight resignations and offered new teacher contracts during its regular session this week.

Resignations were received from Dave Katterhenrich, Jon Wilson, Miss Carol Nelson, Mrs. Marily Ganley, Mrs. Ruth Neff, Mrs. Glenda Anderson, Miss Linda Steck, Mrs. Louisa Stemm.

New teachers employed were Miss Jane Tarbill and Mrs. Roger Patterson.

Contracts were offered to Lowell Anderson, Betty Karn, June Sheets, Ray Bethel, Donald Davis, Eunice Dennis, Patricia Pond, Marcella Porter, Kathryn Arbogast, Paul Ewing, Brenda Hawkins, Mildred Dowden, Richard Everman, Dehl Renick, Herman Sprague, Mabel Walker, E. Miller Hundley, Chestora Peters, Doris Riffle, Jane S. Vance and John Wright.

Some other teachers of the district are already under contract and some are temporarily certified and cannot be employed until August, Westfall executive head Judson Lanman noted.

The board approved a driver training program for the summer. Bids for three school buses will be received May 12.

The Westfall graduate list was approved by the board. Lanman explained the changes in school bus inspection procedures to the board members.

North Korea Claims U.S. Wants War

Boosts Defense Expenditures, Gets Warning

TOKYO (AP)—North Korea said today it is increasing its defense budget 11 per cent and that continuance of U.S. spy flights off its coast is a "new provocation, threat and blackmail."

The report by Pyongyang's official Korean Central News Agency repeated assertions that the U.S. Navy plane shot down by the North Koreans April 12 was deep in Communist air space.

Accusing the United States of "steadily intensifying the war provocation maneuvers," the agency said North Korea plans defense expenditures this year equivalent to about $561 million compared to $533 million for 1968. The $561 million represents 30 per cent of North Korea's 1969 budget.

U.S. military officials in Tokyo reported earlier that the North Koreans have been training a tough, elite corps to infiltrate into South Korea and work for a "native guerrilla uprising."

A band of about 100 guerrillas landed on the east coast last year, but anti-Communist South Koreans failed to support them and told South Korean troops where to find them.

In his first news conference since the shooting down of the U.S. Navy plane, South Korean President Chung Hee Park warned the North Koreans today that "there is a limit to our patience."

Park said the U.S. decision to continue the flights with fighter escorts and the show of strength by the U.S. Navy in the Sea of Japan was "very clever and most appropriate" but added: "What is important is how to cope with North Korean reactions to come, and I believe this will be a critical part of U.S. countermeasures."

Red Chinese End Party Meet; No Surprises

TOKYO (AP) — The Chinese Communist party's ninth congress has ended in Peking with no surprises.

Mao Tse-tung continues to reign as party chairman, and his chosen successor, Defense Minister Lin Biao, is still vice chairman with the added designation of Mao's heir.

Some details of the 24-day meeting were broadcast by Radio Peking and the official New China News Agency after the close of the congress Thursday.

It was the first congress since 1956 and lasted about twice as long as the last one. Most of the time apparently was spent reshaping the top echelons of the party, many of whose leaders were purged during the so-called cultural revolution Mao launched in 1966.

The Circleville Sertoma Club will hold its 3rd Annual Pancake Day, Sat., April 26 at the 4-H and Grange Building. Serving from 7 a.m. till 7 p.m. Proceeds to scholarships for Circleville and Pickaway County High School Seniors. On the menu: Ham, beverages and all the pancakes you can eat. All tickets $1. —ad.

ion against unforeseen economic conditions.

He also said recent revisions in estimated revenue from the sales and use tax should provide nearly $55 million over the next two years.

The finance director said "austerity measures would have to remain in effect for the entire biennium in order to make the money available for education."

This would bring in an additional $25 million in unanticipated state revenues and makes the Collier estimate of available state revenue $30 million higher than the Kurfess estimate.

Civil Rights Enforcer Denies Administration 'Wavering'

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the face of Democratic charges of weakness, wavering and confusion, one of President Nixon's top civil rights enforcers insists Southern resistance to school desegregation is weakening.

"There's much less now. In fact there is a great willingness in most cases," said Leon E. Panetta. "In the period before I took over we were getting a lot. It didn't crumble like everyone thought it would."

Panetta heads the Office of Civil Rights in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He also said since the administration's initial action against five Southern school districts in February he has been subjected to no personal pressure from the one man widely said to feel betrayed, Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.

The 30-year-old lawyer, who looks something like a horn-rimmed version of entertainer Danny Thomas, took over his post March 29, replacing Ruby Martin, a Negro who spurned Republican blandishments to stay on. She contended the enforcement program was vacillating.

Panetta, a former Senate aide and a California like his boss, HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch, moved straight to the center of a mounting controversy.

Spates of sharply conflicting statements from the White House and HEW, plus an occasional added comment from other cabinet agencies, were capped earlier this week by criticism from former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. He called the administration's civil rights policies confusing and said they cast doubt on its "basic commitment."

Finch, showing marked irritation, told a news conference this week he could not understand "this discourse over wavering" on school policies.

Stifel To Testify In His Defense

Panetta has attributed the conflict to confusion and the "naivness of any new administration." He denied there was a possible power struggle in the White House, in HEW, or between the two.

Stock List On Upside

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to advance in moderately active trading early this afternoon, with brokers reporting investors apparently encouraged by the market's rise Thursday.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.16 at 923.36.

Gains led losses by about 200 issues.

After moving in a fairly narrow range Thursday, the market firmed somewhat near the close and posted a moderate gain for the day.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 331.5, with industrials up .1, rails up 1.2, and utilities up .3. Steels and motors were mixed. Aircrafts were lower. Electronics were fractionally higher.

Fifteen of the 20 most active stocks on the New York Stock Exchange were higher, and 5 were lower.

Asama Oil was the most active issue on the American Stock Exchange, up 3/4 at 34.

Warning Signals Of Cancer Can Save Many Lives

If every American recognized and acted promptly upon the discovery of cancer's warning signals, thousands of lives could be saved every year. Dr. William A. Myers of the Pickaway County Unit of the American Cancer Society stated in a recent interview.

"The seven warning signs of cancer," Dr. Myers pointed out, "are somewhat like a ship's radar to warn of danger. The American Cancer Society, he said, urges all citizens to familiarize themselves with cancer's warning signals to help reduce the number of fatal cancer cases."

Dr. Myers explained that the survival rate from cancer today is one out of three cases, "but with our knowledge of the disease increasing each year, we know that we could save one out of two, provided detection of the disease was early and the treatment prompt," he noted.

CANCER'S seven warning signs are: Unusual bleeding or discharge; a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; a sore that does not heal; change in bowel or bladder habits; hoarseness or cough; indigestion or difficulty in swallowing and change in size or color of a wart or mole.

Should any of these signals last longer than two weeks, Dr. Myers urged a prompt visit to the doctor. Only he can tell if cancer is present.

Dr. Myers' remarks were made as the Cancer Society launched its 1969 cancer crusade, the slogan for which is: "Help yourself with a checkup and others with a check."

Du Pont Plant

HARADON joined the company in 1947 as a mechanical engineer at the Old Hickory plant in Tennessee.

During the next 16 years he advanced through several production management positions to plant superintendent and in 1964 he transferred to Richmond, Va., as plant superintendent for polyethylene at the Spruance plant.

He was appointed to his present position May 1, 1968.

He is a native of Port Huron, Michigan, and was graduated from Georgia Tech with a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering.

Haradon's wife Sara and their children, Lynne, 14, and David, 16, will join him in Circleville in June when the present school year is completed.

School Children In Ceremonies For Arbor Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arbor Day was being observed today by thousands of school children across Ohio.

Highlights of the activities was a State Fairgrounds tree planting program headed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

During the Columbus ceremony Buckeye trees were planted at the natural resources exhibit area. Future Farmers, 4-H members, Boy and Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls and others participated.

In similar ceremonies across the state, seedlings of Buckeye and White Pine trees distributed by the Department of Natural Resources were planted at more than 4,000 public and parochial grade schools.

Saturday Is Pancake Day

Proceeds from the 3rd annual Circleville Sertoma Club Pancake Day will be used to provide scholarships to needy students.

Each year Circleville Sertoma Club gives trade or technical scholarships to students in the county who could not otherwise afford such an education. The club's president, Roger Bennington, said that through this effort, Circleville Sertoma Club can help the community grow.

The club's 3rd annual Pancake Day will be Saturday, April 26 at the 4-H and Grange Building at the county fairgrounds. Ham, beverages and all the pancakes you can eat will be served from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Teddy Wants More Demos Playing Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said today that rank-and-file Democrats—rather than organizations, leaders or bosses—should have "the greatest possible role" in reforming party procedures.

The Massachusetts Democrat, considered a front runner among his party's possible 1972 presidential candidate, called for statewide referenda or conventions to make the final decision once the reform commission headed by Sen. George S. McGovern reaches its conclusions, which are expected to be guidelines for states to follow.

Kennedy's proposals came in testimony prepared for the first of 16 hearings planned by the McGovern Commission into ways the party can make its nominating procedures more democratic.

Among the 18 witnesses called today also were Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the 1968 Democratic vice presidential candidate and a 1972 presidential possibility, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, an unsuccessful 1968 White House aspirant.

Kennedy's message appeared different in tack and tone from the statement of former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who sent written remarks because he couldn't attend the meeting.

Name Demo Member Of Elections Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown Thursday appointed Archie L. Malone of Coal Grove as a Democratic member of the Lawrence County Board of Elections.

He succeeds the late James M. Robinson of Hanging Rock and will serve through Feb. 29, 1972.

Trial Nearing End

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Final arguments were scheduled today in Warren County Common Pleas Court in the first-degree murder trial of Treva Crosthwaite, 17, accused of shooting her father Nov. 1, 1968.

Unrest Continues On Dozen U.S. Campuses

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

City College of New York will remain closed through Monday while its president tries to negotiate a settlement with Negro and Puerto Rican students who have barred half the campus to whites.

Hampton Institute in Virginia was closed "for an indefinite period" by the trustees Thursday, while more than a dozen campuses were hit by protests centering on racial and military issues.

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, City College president, opened negotiations at his campus home—inside the barricaded area—with leaders of about 200 minority-group students who sealed off South Campus Tuesday morning. No progress was reported.

In Hampton, Va., about 100 students continued their sit-in in the institute's administration building to demand higher salaries for instructors.

Dr. Jerome H. Holland, president of the Negro school, remained in his office despite the protest.

In Baltimore, police used tear gas early today to break up an unruly crowd of 200 students at Johns Hopkins University, as the students tried to stop police from taking away three students seized in a narcotics raid.

Members of Students for a Democratic Society at the University of Washington seized a building on the Seattle campus, but left when a school official over the criminal trespass law over a bullhorn.

About 70 students tried to block the SDS takeover, but were pushed aside. Someone released swarms of bees from a truck loaded with hives, and 22 persons were treated for stings.

The protesters sought an end to business and military recruiting on campus.

In New Orleans, groups of opposing demonstrators clashed on the campus of Tulane University during a drill by cadets of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps. The drill was halted for 10 minutes.

Students at Tulane are required to take either ROTC or physical education courses. ROTC is accredited; gym courses are not.

At other campuses: Washington, D.C.—George Washington University began preparing for criminal and disciplinary action against 40 protesters who seized the Institute for Sino-Soviet Studies for five hours Wednesday.

President Lloyd Elliott said eight students had been identified "and we are proceeding to identify others."

Across town, American University's president said he would take no action against students who seized the administration building Wednesday and were evicted by fraternity-led youths, George H. Williams condemned the takeover, but said, "I consider the matter closed."

Both demonstrations were led by the SDS.

Memphis, Tenn.—Black students at Memphis State University pressed seven demands, including hiring more black administrators and instructors and revising the school's athletic policies. The students held a brief and unsuccessful sit-in Wednesday to demand that the school pay Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. $1,750 to speak on campus.

New York—Students continued sit-ins at Queens College and Queensborough Community College to demand reversal of decisions not to rehire a politically active instructor at each campus. Thirteen faculty members at Queensborough urged President Kurt Schmeller to reconsider his dismissal of three professors who joined the sit-in.

A sit-in continued at New York University's Bronx campus to protest dismissal of a political activist from the faculty. About 80 students began a sit-in.

Loretta Young Seeks Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Loretta Young, whose 29-year marriage to advertising man Tom Lewis was once considered one of movieland's happiest, filed for divorce Thursday in Los Angeles Superior Court.

Miss Young, 56, asked for token alimony of $1 a year. She said Lewis, 65, deserted her without cause in 1956.

At one time Lewis produced "The Loretta Young Show" on television.

The couple have two sons, Peter, 23, and Christopher, 24, and an adopted daughter Judy, married to television director Joseph Tinney Jr.

Start Appeal For Sirhan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lawyers take the first step today in the extensive appeals process open to Sirhan Bishara Sirhan.

Judge Herbert V. Walker granted defense attorneys a special hearing to argue for a one-week postponement—to May 21—of their motions for a new trial and Walker's formal sentence on the assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A seven-man, five-woman jury Wednesday condemned the 25-year-old Jordanian Arab to death in the gas chamber for first-degree murder. Walker than set May 14 for a hearing on motions and the sentencing.

A multitude of legal avenues available to Sirhan's defenders could prevent the death penalty or at least postpone it.

His chief defense counsel, Grant B. Cooper, estimated Thursday that an appeal of the conviction and sentence would take at least a year. The trial lasted nearly 16 weeks.

demanding "restructuring of the college and changes in the decision-making process."

Oneonta, N.Y.—Officials of the State University College turned down a demand by Negro students for a $35 weekly spending allowance.

The school accepted demands to admit more black freshmen, seek black teachers and administrators and consider a black studies program.

Ithaca, N.Y.—Fifteen Cornell University professors presented President James A. Perkins with a refusal to teach until they are assured that all firearms on campus have been surrendered.

Perkins banned firearms after armed black militants seized the student center last weekend, but no move has been made to collect the arms.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Gov. Edgar D. Whitcomb turned down a Purdue University request for a special legislative session to provide sufficient funds to roll back a tuition increase, as students demand.

About 40 students were arrested earlier in a demonstration against the increase, but charges were dropped. The school's Board of Trustees said it will permit the student body president to join closed-door sessions to vice student grievances.

Cambridge, Mass.—Harvard University President Nathan M. Pusey told 800 cheering business school graduate students that campus revolutionaries want to tear down American society. He said the rebels have "no visible plan" other than to create turmoil.

The annual "Come And Taste Tea" by the Women of St. Philip's Episcopal Church will be held from 2-4 p.m. Wednesday in the Parish House. Liturgy of the Lord's Supper will be 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

The Public Talk at Jehovah's Witnesses on Sunday morning will be "Be Ready To Make A Defense For Your Faith." Speaker will be M. Haering. The Bible Study will be "Why Is Our Ministry Successful?"

School Children In Ceremonies For Arbor Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arbor Day was being observed today by thousands of school children across Ohio.

Highlights of the activities was a State Fairgrounds tree planting program headed by Gov. James A. Rhodes. During the Columbus ceremony Buckeye trees were planted at the natural resources exhibit area. Future Farmers, 4-H members, Boy and Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls and others participated.

In similar ceremonies across the state, seedlings of Buckeye and White Pine trees distributed by the Department of Natural Resources were planted at more than 4,000 public and parochial grade schools.

Mrs. Francis Furniss read, "House cleaning Time" and the program closed with a vocal solo "How Great Thou Art" by Carroll Reid. Mr. Paul Dunkle gave some well chosen remarks and suggestions for the good of the order.

Refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed tea table centered with an arrangement of spring flowers by Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Bidwell, Mrs. Otha Lewis, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Smith.

Youths Take Over State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — This was a big day for 350 youngsters participating in the 18th Ohio YMCA model legislature and supreme court.

In addition to a close look at how government operates, the high school boys and girls were getting a chance to meet America's first space age hero.

The youthful legislative and judiciary delegates were to take over the Statehouse chambers of their official counterparts after receiving the oath of office from Chief Justice Kingsley A. Taft of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The mock general assembly will consider bills proposed by delegate-legislators, while the mode supreme court hears five cases prepared in advance. The mock sessions will continue through the weekend.

Featured speaker at the governor's banquet tonight will be former astronaut John Glenn, first American to orbit the earth in space. Glenn is a native of New Concord, Ohio, and is a likely candidate for U.S. senator from Ohio in 1970.

Saturday Is Pancake Day

Proceeds from the 3rd annual Circleville Sertoma Club Pancake Day will be used to provide scholarships to needy students.

Each year Circleville Sertoma Club gives trade or technical scholarships to students in the county who could not otherwise afford such an education. The club's president, Roger Bennington, said that through this effort, Circleville Sertoma Club can help the community grow.

The club's 3rd annual Pancake Day will be Saturday, April 26 at the 4-H and Grange Building at the county fairgrounds. Ham, beverages and all the pancakes you can eat will be served from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Teddy Wants More Demos Playing Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said today that rank-and-file Democrats—rather than organizations, leaders or bosses—should have "the greatest possible role" in reforming party procedures.

The Massachusetts Democrat, considered a front runner among his party's possible 1972 presidential candidate, called for statewide referenda or conventions to make the final decision once the reform commission headed by Sen. George S. McGovern reaches its conclusions, which are expected to be guidelines for states to follow.

Kennedy's proposals came in testimony prepared for the first of 16 hearings planned by the McGovern Commission into ways the party can make its nominating procedures more democratic.

Among the 18 witnesses called today also were Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the 1968 Democratic vice presidential candidate and a 1972 presidential possibility, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, an unsuccessful 1968 White House aspirant.

Kennedy's message appeared different in tack and tone from the statement of former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who sent written remarks because he couldn't attend the meeting.

Name Demo Member Of Elections Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown Thursday appointed Archie L. Malone of Coal Grove as a Democratic member of the Lawrence County Board of Elections.

He succeeds the late James M. Robinson of Hanging Rock and will serve through Feb. 29, 1972.

Unrest Continues On Dozen U.S. Campuses

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

City College of New York will remain closed through Monday while its president tries to negotiate a settlement with Negro and Puerto Rican students who have barred half the campus to whites.

Hampton Institute in Virginia was closed "for an indefinite period" by the trustees Thursday, while more than a dozen campuses were hit by protests centering on racial and military issues.

Dr. Buell G. Gallagher, City College president, opened negotiations at his campus home—inside the barricaded area—with leaders of about 200 minority-group students who sealed off South Campus Tuesday morning. No progress was reported.

In Hampton, Va., about 100 students continued their sit-in in the institute's administration building to demand higher salaries for instructors.

Dr. Jerome H. Holland, president of the Negro school, remained in his office despite the protest.

In Baltimore, police used tear gas early today to break up an unruly crowd of 200 students at Johns Hopkins University, as the students tried to stop police from taking away three students seized in a narcotics raid.

Members of Students for a Democratic Society at the University of Washington seized a building on the Seattle campus, but left when a school official read the criminal trespass law over a bullhorn.

About 70 students tried to block the SDS takeover, but were pushed aside. Someone released swarms of bees from a truck loaded with hives, and 22 persons were treated for stings.

The protesters sought an end to business and military recruiting on campus.

In New Orleans, groups of opposing demonstrators clashed on the campus of Tulane University during a drill by cadets of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps. The drill was halted for 10 minutes.

Students at Tulane are required to take either ROTC or physical education courses. ROTC is accredited; gym courses are not.

At other campuses: Washington, D.C.—George Washington University began preparing for criminal and disciplinary action against 40 protesters who seized the Institute for Sino-Soviet Studies for five hours Wednesday.

President Lloyd Elliott said eight students had been identified "and we are proceeding to identify others."

Across town, American University's president said he would take no action against students who seized the administration building Wednesday and were evicted by fraternity-led youths. George H. Williams condemned the takeover, but said, "I consider the matter closed."

Both demonstrations were led by the SDS.

Memphis, Tenn.—Black students at Memphis State University pressed seven demands, including hiring more black administrators and instructors and revising the school's athletic policies. The students held a brief and unsuccessful sit-in Wednesday to demand that the school pay Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. $1,750 to speak on campus.

New York—Students continued sit-ins at Queens College and Queensborough Community College to demand reversal of decisions not to rehire a politically active instructor at each campus. Thirteen faculty members at Queensborough urged President Kurt Schmeller to reconsider his dismissal of three professors who joined the sit-in.

A sit-in continued at New York University's Bronx campus to protest dismissal of a political activist from the faculty. About 80 students began a sit-in at NYU's Greenwich Village campus to demand opening admission to all high school graduates. A judge issues a court order, returnable Monday, against the Bronx sit-in.

Amherst, Mass.—Amherst College officials were considering a three-day moratorium on classes in the wake of threats of a campus takeover by students demanding "restructuring of the college and changes in the decision-making process."

Oneonta, N.Y.—Officials of the State University College turned down a demand by Negro students for a $35 weekly spending allowance.

The school accepted demands to admit more black freshmen, seek black teachers and administrators and consider a black studies program.

Ithaca, N.Y.—Fifteen Cornell University professors presented President James A. Perkins with a refusal to teach until they are assured that all firearms on campus have been surrendered.

Perkins banned firearms after armed black militants seized the student center last weekend, but no move has been made to collect the arms.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Gov. Edgar D. Whitcomb turned down a Purdue University request for a special legislative session to provide sufficient funds to roll back a tuition increase, as students demand.

About 40 students were arrested earlier in a demonstration against the increase, but charges were dropped. The school's Board of Trustees said it will permit the student body president to join closed-door sessions to vice student grievances.

Cambridge, Mass.—Harvard University President Nathan M. Pusey told 800 cheering business school graduate students that campus revolutionaries want to tear down American society. He said the rebels have "no visible plan" other than to create turmoil.

Start Appeal For Sirhan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lawyers take the first step today in the extensive appeals process open to Sirhan Bishara Sirhan.

Judge Herbert V. Walker granted defense attorneys a special hearing to argue for a one-week postponement—to May 21—of their motions for a new trial and Walker's formal sentence on the assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

A seven-man, five-woman jury Wednesday condemned the 25-year-old Jordanian Arab to death in the gas chamber for first-degree murder. Walker than set May 14 for a hearing on motions and the sentencing.

A multitude of legal avenues available to Sirhan's defenders could prevent the death penalty or at least postpone it.

His chief defense counsel, Grant B. Cooper, estimated Thursday that an appeal of the conviction and sentence would take at least a year. The trial lasted nearly 16 weeks.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I think one of the greatest gifts in life is the opportunity to work at something you enjoy doing," said Angela Lansbury.

"Many, many people don't get this chance, and therefore they never experience a sense of the fulfillment of life."

It was a loss to politics and a gain to the theater when the British-born actress decided to follow her mother's example and embark on a career before the footlights. One of her childhood dreams—she is the granddaughter of George Lansbury, former leader of the British Labor party—was to become England's first lady prime minister.

Miss Lansbury, currently starring in the Broadway musical, "Dear World," which gained her a second Tony Award, has appeared in 70 films and numerous plays since she came to Canada as a wartime evacuee and got $60-a-week job in 1942 doing impersonations in a night club.

A year later she was working as a cosmetics salesgirl in a Los Angeles department store at $28 a week when the late movie magnate Louis B. Mayer, impressed by a short film test, signed her to a seven-year contract at $500 weekly.

Over the next two decades Hollywood make-up men must have anointed her with a ton of goo to age her face to play the roles of hags and hussies which became her specialty. She finally escaped from this typecasting in the Broadway hit, "Mame," a sprightly role in which she won her first Tony Award.

Her fine character acting also won her three Academy Award nominations for her performances in "Gaslight," "The Picture of Dorian Gray," and "The Manchurian Candidate."

Many film fans, indelibly impressed by her screen images, have automatically come to think of Angela as a crafty, wrinkled old lady—a Mrs. Metuselah. This rather amuses Miss Lansbury, a strikingly handsome, blue-eyed woman still in her early forties.

"It's ridiculous for the public to think that the parts I play are really me," she said, smiling. "But the public doesn't care to know who you really are. They like to feel that what they think about you is true."

In her next film role in "The Dreamers," she again essays the upper age brackets as a decaying European countess stranded in the past.

"She's quite a character," said Angela, "and it's fun to have a crack at it."

The remark is typical of Miss Lansbury, and shows why people in the theater are fond of her as "the professional's professional."

This is her creed in her own words:

"If you conscientiously attempt to give the best you can of yourself in every department of your life, you will indeed get the best back. By giving affirmatively, you can't help but end up on the plus side of happiness. Your state of life will be happy and forward, not stationary and negative."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SEATTLE'S REV. BUTLER writes that he overheard one of his young charges praying, "Oh Lord, take care of my mother and father, and my sister and brother, and my grandma — and please, Lord, take care of yourself or else we're all sunk!"

Rev. Butler is the prelate who had the spunk to tell his parishioners at his last Easter service, "I realize I may not see many of you again until next Easter—so a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you."

"Oh, oh," wailed a lady patient. "What I'd give for just one good night's sleep."

"Try taking a glass of warm milk and eating an apple just before you retire," suggested the doctor.

"But, Doctor," protested his patient. "Six months ago you told me not to eat a bite for three hours before going to bed."

"I know, my dear lady," bumbled the doctor, "but you have no idea what tremendous strides medical science has registered in that period."

Woody Hayes, famous coach of Ohio State's great 1968 football team, kept his coach's feet on the ground by quoting Ralph Waldo Emerson's "Blame is safer than praise. As soon as honeyed words of praise are spoken to me, I feel as one who lies unprotected before his enemies."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A speck of blood coughed up in the sputum always seems to strike a note of terror. When there is a little more blood coughed into a toilet basin the anxiety becomes even greater because it almost seems that a basinal of blood and not a tiny quantity was coughed up.

The fear that blood in the sputum necessarily means tuberculosis or cancer is not valid, for there are dozens of unimportant reasons for such small quantities of coughed up blood.

It must not be assumed that I suggest such a condition be disregarded. Rather do I mean that the cause he found by a medical examination instead of harboring the frightening thought that the blood is more meaningful.

Fear sometimes can keep patients away from the doctor's office, especially those who are afraid to come face to face with the truth and prefer the delaying tactics.

Blood can come from the back of the nose or throat, trickle down into the larynx and then be coughed up. The same can happen with tender bleeding gums. In these cases the blood does not originate in the lungs and is of no great importance.

I must point out that tuberculosis is not a disease to be ashamed of. It falsely was at the turn of the century because it was felt to occur only in underprivileged families. It can and does occur in every social and economic class and can be cured or controlled when caught early.

This age of the wonder drugs has been responsible for the cure of a large percentage of cases of tuberculosis. The enthusiasm is great for this accomplishment, but let it not be forgotten that this disease is still a very active threat to the health of people all over this country and the world. Blood that is coughed up is an excellent warning of nature. It must not be overlooked.

The analysis of the contents of the stomach is a valuable tool for the doctor in seeking a diagnosis to account for a patient's complaints. The contents of the stomach are suctioned up through a thin rubber or polyethylene tube which is passed into the stomach through the mouth or nose.

The procedure is mildly unpleasant, but now can be eased

Seed For Black Power

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Reverend Adam Clayton Powell, Negro Congressman from New York's Harlem, is well known to most readers of the mass media. Tall and handsome, he has flouted "whiteness" in all sorts of escapades. He makes startling "copy," both in Washington and in his hideout in the Bahamas. But what has he ever done to increase the sum total of productive black power?

The Rev. Leon Sullivan, Negro minister of the Zion Baptist Church in Philadelphia, is not so well known. Tall and handsome, a forceful speaker and a dynamic presence, the Rev. Mr. Sullivan has chosen to get along with "whiteness" as long as whiteness gets along with him. He has not gone the political route that the Reverend Powell has chosen as a way to fame. But, in his efforts to put black people into businesses of their own, he has increased the sum total of productive black power as no politician, whether Negro or white, has succeeded in doing.

Leon Sullivan began to make a local name for himself in Philadelphia by getting his parishioners interested in financing businesses of their own. Like the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., he had a dream. It wasn't particularly grandiose, but it was, as he judged, reachable in a fairly quick span of time. Accordingly, he founded something called the Opportunities Industrialization Center in Philadelphia, dedicated to the upgrading of Negroes seeking jobs. That was five years ago. General Electric, looking for manpower in an unseasonal way, decided that Leon Sullivan had more than charisma, and helped him make the Philadelphia OIC a going thing.

Last year, as reported in this column, Leon Sullivan started the Progress Aerospace Enterprises Inc., in Philadelphia. It was and is an all-black-owned and all-black-managed company. Knowing his record for delivery, General Electric helped him with contracts. These now amount to several million dollars worth of backlog, and 200 people are hard at work in Progress Aerospace Enterprises earning wages that are their own source of black power.

Meanwhile, the Rev. Mr. Sullivan's Opportunities Industrialization Center idea had taken hold nationally; he had seventy of them either in operation or under development throughout the United States.

Last week something extremely significant happened as a result of the Rev. Mr. Sullivan's missionary work. Twenty-four young blacks walked to the platform at the General Electric Company's Management Development Institute in Crotonville, New York, to receive diplomas from the hand of George Champion, a director of the Chase Manhattan Bank who happens to be chairman of the Rev. Mr. Sullivan's OIC Industrial Advisory Council. The twenty-four had had ten weeks of intensive managerial training, starting out at the Temple University School of Business and the Wharton School of Finance in Philadelphia. Their special areas of study included general management, financial management, manpower training, urban sociology and minority history. One student had a master's degree, one was entirely self-educated. They will go back to twenty-four different American cities, from Boston to Phoenix, Ariz., and from Seattle to Greensboro, N.C., to become executive directors or deputies of local OICs. Eventually some of them will wind up in African countries, to help with the independent industrialization of former colonial areas.

It was heartening to listen to the Rev. Mr. Sullivan and to George Champion giving the twenty-four their send-off. Speaking from his own experience at the Chase Manhattan, Mr. Champion told the twenty-four not to believe the myths about automation dispensing with the need for men. After two decades of automating everything in sight, the Chase now employs 20,000 people instead of 10,000. The turnover is 40 per cent. "We need 900 more at the moment," said Mr. Champion. But the 900 must have some education, such as the Rev. Mr. Sullivan's OICs and other programs are expected to provide.

Leon Sullivan spoke of his own ambitions. "My primary aim," he said, "is to help Afro-Americans prove they can do anything any other man can do. Our task is not to tear America down, but to put black power together with white power to build America up. Man can become whatever he wants to be if he is properly motivated. "You," Leon Sullivan said, "must lead the way." "You," said George Champion, "are the seed corn."

Dean Martin Jr.

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "That Dino Martin," said Lucille Ball recently, speaking like a Beverly Hills housewife. "He has really straightened out. His big ambition now is to go to UCLA and play on the tennis team, and what's more, he's got the grades for it. I'm hoping that will rub off on young Desi."

The transformation in the teen-age son of the Dean Martins is indeed the talk of film colony parents. Once Dino was considered the playboy of the western slope, a go-go kid who owned a fabulous sports car before he could legally drive it, who haunted the discotheques until early hours.

Once Miss Ball was concerned about Dino's influence on her son, since the boys constitute two-thirds of the successful rock group, Dino, Desi and Billy (Hinsche). Now she is his strongest supporter.

"Gee, did Desi's mother say that?" young Martin asked. "I can't believe it! I always thought she considered me a bad influence on Desi."

Dean Martin Jr.—that's his real name—failed to live up to his wild reputation in an interview. The slender six-footer sprawled on a couch at the family manse and discussed with utter seriousness his future career in acting, music and education.

His acting is exposed for the first time in a new film, "A Boy ... A Girl" directed by John Derek and produced by Jack Hanson, owner of the Daisy and the Jax sportswear stores.

"I hardly remember the picture," said Dino. "I made it more than two years ago, when I was 15. It was fun to do. We shot it all over California, and I got a chance to ride my motorcycle a great deal. I was riding it before I could drive a car. Steve McQueen taught me."

The film is one of those poetic portrayals of young love, but Dino assured that he performed no sex scenes with his costar, Arion Frower.

"We couldn't," he explained. "A welfare worker was on the set at all times, and nothing like that was allowed. There is a nude scene in the desert that takes place behind a white screen. But it isn't me. They had to get another actor to do it. That was silly because you don't really see anything; I could have done the scene with tight trucks."

His acting future? "No time," Dino replied. "I fall in pre-med. It looks now as if I'll have a tennis scholarship at the university. So there won't be any time for acting; I'll be too busy with my studies, my tennis and my music."

"I know what you feel," he said, "I was here. You come from broken homes or from homes unable to take care of you. Or you're here because you were pretty damned ornery. I've been in all those categories myself."

It was a loss to politics and a gain to the theater when the British-born actress decided to follow her mother's example and embark on a career before the footlights. One of her childhood dreams—she is the granddaughter of George Lansbury, former leader of the British Labor party—was to become England's first lady prime minister. Miss Lansbury, currently starring in the Broadway musical, "Dear World," which gained her a second Tony Award, has appeared in 70 films and numerous plays since she came to Canada as a wartime evacuee and got $60-a-week job in 1942 doing impersonations in a night club.

A year later she was working as a cosmetics salesgirl in a Los Angeles department store at $28 a week when the late movie magnate Louis B. Mayer, impressed by a short film test, signed her to a seven-year contract at $500 weekly.

Over the next two decades Hollywood make-up men must have anointed her with a ton of goo to age her face to play the roles of hags and hussies which became her specialty. She finally escaped from this typecasting in the Broadway hit, "Mame," a sprightly role in which she won her first Tony Award.

Her fine character acting also won her three Academy Award nominations for her performances in "Gaslight," "The Picture of Dorian Gray," and "The Manchurian Candidate."

Many film fans, indelibly impressed by her screen images, have automatically come to think of Angela as a crafty, wrinkled old lady—a Mrs. Methylus. This rather amuses Miss Lansbury, a strikingly handsome, blue-eyed woman still in her early forties.

"It's ridiculous for the public to think that the parts I play are really me," she said, smiling. "But the public doesn't care to know who you really are. They like to feel that they think about you is true."

In her next film role in "The Dreamers," she again essays the upper age brackets as a decaying European countess stranded in the past.

"She's quite a character," said Angela, "and it's fun to have a crack at it."

The remark is typical of Miss Lansbury, and shows why people in the theater are fond of her as "the professional's professional."

This is her creed in her own words:

"If you conscientiously attempt to give the best you can of yourself in every department of your life, you will indeed get the best back. By giving affirmatively, you can't help but end up on the plus side of happiness. Your state of life will be happy and forward, not stationary and negative."

Try and Stop Me

SEATTLE'S REV. BUTLER writes that he overheard one of his young charges praying, "Oh Lord, take care of my mother and father, and my sister and brother, and my grandma — and please, Lord, take care of yourself or else we're all sunk!"

Rev. Butler is the prelate who had the spunk to tell his parishioners at his last Easter service, "I realize I may not see many of you again until next Easter—so a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you."

"Oh, oh," wailed a lady patient. "What I'd give for just one good night's sleep."

"Try taking a glass of warm milk and eating an apple just before you retire," suggested the doctor.

"But, Doctor," protested his patient. "Six months ago you told me not to eat a bite for three hours before going to bed."

"I know, my dear lady," bumbled the doctor, "but you have no idea what tremendous strides medical science has registered in that period."

Woody Hayes, famous coach of Ohio State's great 1968 football team, kept his squad's feet on the ground by quoting Ralph Waldo Emerson's "Blame is safer than praise. As soon as honeyed words of praise are spoken to me, I feel as one who lies unprotected before his enemies."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

A speck of blood coughed up in the sputum always seems to strike a note of terror. When there is a little more blood coughed into a toilet basin the anxiety becomes even greater because it almost seems that a basinful of blood and not a tiny quantity was coughed up.

The fear that blood in the sputum necessarily means tuberculosis or cancer is not valid, for there are dozens of unimportant reasons for such small quantities of coughed up blood.

It must not be assumed that I suggest such a condition be disregarded. Rather do I mean that the cause he found by a medical examination instead of a harboring the frightening thought that the blood is more meaningful.

Fear sometimes can keep patients away from the doctor's office, especially those who are afraid to come face to face with the truth and prefer the delaying tactics.

Blood can come from the back of the nose or throat, trickle down into the larynx and then be coughed up. The same can happen with tender bleeding gums. In these cases the blood does not originate in the lungs and is of no great importance.

I must point out that tuberculosis is not a disease to be ashamed of. It falsely was at the turn of the century because it was felt to occur only in underprivileged families. It can and does occur in every social and economic class and can be cured or controlled when caught early.

This age of the wonder drugs has been responsible for the cure of a large percentage of cases of tuberculosis. The enthusiasm is great for this accomplishment, but let it not be forgotten that this disease is still a very active threat to the health of people all over this country and the world. Blood that is coughed up is an excellent warning of nature. It must not be overlooked.

The analysis of the contents of the stomach is a valuable tool for the doctor in seeking a diagnosis to account for a patient's complaints. The contents of the stomach are suctioned up through a thin rubber or polyethylene tube which is passed into the stomach through the mouth or nose.

The procedure is mildly unpleasant, but now can be eased

Seed For Black Power

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The Reverend Adam Clayton Powell, Negro Congressman from New York's Harlem, is well known to most readers of the mass media. Tall and handsome, he has flouted "whitey" in all sorts of escapades. He makes startling "copy," both in Washington and in his hideout in the Bahamas. But what has he ever done to increase the sum total of productive black power?

The Rev. Leon Sullivan, Negro minister of the Zion Baptist Church in Philadelphia, is not so well known. Tall and handsome, a forceful speaker and a dynamic presence, the Rev. Mr. Sullivan has chosen to get along with "whitey" as long as whitey gets along with him. He has not gone the political route that the Reverend Powell has chosen as a way to fame. But, in his efforts to put black people into businesses of their own, he has increased the sum total of productive black power as no politician, whether Negro or white, has succeeded in doing.

Leon Sullivan began to make a local name for himself in Philadelphia by getting his parishioners interested in financing businesses of their own. Like the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., he had a dream. It wasn't particularly grandiose, but it was, as he judged, reachable in a fairly quick span of time. Accordingly, he founded something called the Opportunities Industrialization Center in Philadelphia, dedicated to the upgrading of Negroes seeking jobs. That was five years ago. General Electric, looking for manpower in an unsentimental way, decided that Leon Sullivan had more than charisma, and helped him make the Philadelphia OIC a going thing.

Last year, as reported in this column, Leon Sullivan started the Progress Aerospace Enterprises Inc., in Philadelphia. It was and is an all-black-owned and all-black-managed company. Knowing his record for delivery, General Electric helped him with contracts. These now amount to several million dollars worth of backlog, and 200 people are hard at work in Progress Aerospace Enterprises earning wages that are their own source of black power.

Meanwhile, the Rev. Mr. Sullivan's Opportunities Industrialization Center idea had taken hold nationally: he had seventy of them either in operation or under development throughout the United States.

Last week something extremely significant happened as a result of the Rev. Mr. Sullivan's missionary work. Twenty-four young blacks walked to the platform at the

General Electric Company's

Management Development Institute in Crotonville, New York, to receive diplomas from the hand of George Champion, a director of the Chase Manhattan Bank who happens to be chairman of the Rev. Mr. Sullivan's OIC Industrial Advisory Council. The twenty-four had had ten weeks of intensive managerial training, starting out at the Temple University School of Business and the Wharton School of Finance in Philadelphia. Their special areas of study included general management, financial management, manpower training, urban sociology and minority history. One student had a master's degree, one was entirely self-educated. They will go back to twenty-four different American cities, from Boston to Phoenix, Ariz., and from Seattle to Greensboro, N.C., to become executive directors or deputies of local OICs. Eventually some of them will wind up in African countries, to help with the independent industrialization of former colonial areas.

It was heartening to listen to the Rev. Mr. Sullivan and to George Champion giving the twenty-four their send-off. Speaking from his own experience at the Chase Manhattan, Mr. Champion told the twenty-four not to believe the myths about automation dispensing with the need for men. After two decades of automating everything in sight, the Chase now employs 20,000 people instead of 10,000. The turnover is 40 per cent. "We need 900 more at the moment," said Mr. Champion. But the 900 must have some education, such as the Rev. Mr. Sullivan's OICs and other programs are expected to provide.

Leon Sullivan spoke of his own ambitions. "My primary aim," he said, "is to help Africans prove they can do anything any other man can do. Our task is not to tear America down, but to put black power together with white power to build America up. Man can become whatever he wants to be if he's properly motivated."

"You," Leon Sullivan said, "must lead the way." "You," said George Champion, "are the seed corn."

Dean Martin Jr.

By BOB THOMAS

AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "That Dino Martin," said Lucille Ball recently, speaking like a Beverly Hills housewife. "He has really straightened out. His big ambition now is to go to UCLA and play on the tennis team, and what's more, he's got the grades for it. I'm hoping that will rub off on young Desi."

The transformation in the teen-age son of the Dean Martins is indeed the talk of film colony parents. Once Dino was considered the playboy of the western slope, a go-go kid who owned a fabulous sports car before he could legally drive it, who haunted the discotheques until early hours.

Once Miss Ball was concerned about Dino's influence on her son, since the boys constitute two-thirds of the successful rock group, Dino, Desi and Billy (Hinsche). Now she is his strongest supporter.

"Gee, did Desi's mother say that?" young Martin asked. "I can't believe it! I always thought she considered me a bad influence on Desi."

Dean Martin Jr.—that's his real name—failed to live up to his wild reputation in an interview. The slender six-footer sprawled on a couch at the family manse and discussed with utter seriousness his future career in acting, music and education.

His acting is exposed for the first time in a new film, "A Boy ... A Girl" directed by John Derek and produced by Jack Hanerson, owner of the Daisy and the Jax sportswear stores.

"I hardly remember the picture," said Dino. "I made it more than two years ago, when I was 15. It was fun to do. We shot it all over California, and I got a chance to ride my motorbike a great deal. I was riding it before I could drive a car. Steve McQueen taught me."

The film is one of those poetic portrayals of young love, but Dino assured that he performed no sex scenes with his costar, Arion Frower.

"We couldn't," he explained.

"A welfare worker was on the set at all times, and nothing like that was allowed. There is a nude scene in the desert that takes place behind a white screen. But it isn't me. They had to get another actor to do it. That was silly because you don't really see anything; I could have done the scene with tight trunks."

His acting future? "No time," Dino replied. "I fall in pre-med. It looks now as if I'll have a tennis scholarship at the university. So there won't be any time for acting; I'll be too busy with my studies, my tennis and my music."

Ohio Cities Facing Rapidly Growing Trash Problem

By DON BANDY
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—By current estimate, each Ohioan is responsible for five pounds of solid waste a day. Multiplied by approximately 11 million residents in the state, that adds up to a lot of trash.

The estimate comes from a state health official who warns that unless an effective method of disposing of waste is found, "we soon will run out of place to live because of the amount of solid waste."

Disposing of trash is a critical problem for Ohio cities. It has become an expensive problem, too.

The cities, threatened with inundation by mountainous piles of trash, are faced with a July 1 deadline for complying with tough new state standards for waste disposal. The new law bans open burning of trash and operation of open dumps.

Another new law that became effective Jan. 1 requires all waste disposal sites to be licensed by the state. The new laws are for health reasons.

Ray B. Watts, chief of the sanitation division, Ohio Department of Health, said pressure will be applied for cities to comply with the new laws.

"We're telling them we're expecting action," he said in an interview with The Associated Press.

There are currently about 600 open dumps being operated in the state, either by cities or private owners, Watts said.

Our own affluency has helped create the trash problem, says Watts. "We operate on the basis of waste," he explained. "It used to be things we bought lasted for several years, but now they last as little as two years and we throw them out."

Packaging of food has added immensely to the problem.

Says Thomas P. Welch, Cincinnati superintendent of waste collection: "Used to, we only ate corn in season, when it was grown, or peaches in summer. But because of quick-frozen foods, people put everything in their deep freezers in packages that eventually are thrown away."

Welch was startled recently when he sat down in a restaurant and discovered the table cloth was made of paper. "All this paper stuff, and plastic cocktail glasses that are popular now, wind up in our waste collection. And you have women wearing paper dresses now," Welch said.

In Cincinnati alone, the volume of solid waste has increased 9 1/2 per cent the last three years. Urban areas across the country report the same thing as the solid waste totals an estimated billion pounds daily.

Most Ohio cities now use landfill operations for disposal purposes. Trash is compacted and dumped into a trench or gully and covered with one to two feet of dirt. This serves a dual purpose as eventually the land will become usable again.

Many municipalities are running out of available land. Springfield officials report that a landfill now in use there will be about the last because there simply are no further sites available. Elyria says its landfill will last only until 1970, and another method of disposing of trash will be needed.

James J. Yoder, superintendent of the Columbus sanitation division, says the city now has two landfills in operation, but they will last for another 10 to 12 years.

Cities have found that incinerators are too expensive, and that causes air pollution problems. Yoder said the national average for incinerating trash costs $6 a ton, while it costs only $1.50 ton to dispose of it by landfill.

Elyria dropped plans to construct a municipal incinerator because of the high costs involved: An initial cash outlay of $5 million with disposal costs estimated at $6.56 a ton.

The long-range solution, Watts believes, will be the use of trash trains. More and more cities -- Columbus, Circleville, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Elyria, Springfield -- are discussing this possibility of compacting trash into cubes and hauling it out of urban areas on flat cars to abandoned strip mines.

"This eventually will happen, or else some great technician someday will discover how to reuse a great percentage of solid waste by making it available for construction purposes or the like," Watts said.

The trash trains, Watts added, could accomplish two undesirable: Getting rid of the solid wastes and reclaiming strip mines by making the land useful again.

The strip mines would be available for a long, long time, Watts said.

"If something isn't done we'll have solid wastes coming out of our ears," Watts declared.

'Trends In Music,' Program For Monday Club Meeting

When Monday Club met recently at Trinity Lutheran Church, the program was presented by Miss Mary Ruth Tolbert. The subject, "Trends in Music" was interpreted by Miss Tolbert as the sounds of new music today, and her theme was "One thing that never changes is the fact of change."

There have been three periods in music history where the changes in established forms were revolutionary in nature: 1. 1300; 2. 1600; 3. 1900. The change in form and content which began at the turn of this century was as revolutionary as any in all music history, and resulted at first in bewilderment and fury. The new composers were determined to break away from the romanticism of their predecessors, to achieve freedom from inhibitions and to resort to a kind of primitiveness, portraying brute strength and dynamic energy in their compositions. They turned to Africa, Asia and East Europe for musical ideas. They found little acceptance for their new ideas, and concerts were often broken up by riots.

The first examples of new music played by Miss Tolbert were two by Stravinsky, "The Rites of Spring" and his ballet "Paganism", both of which provoked great discussion, especially in his use of intervals of fourths instead of thirds, making for an effect of dissonance. Shostakovich's "Polka", also a ballet, had a strong impelling rhythm and great dissonance. An Indian spoke briefly concerning the sitar, a guitar-like instrument played in his country, which has been adopted by modern musicians, along with the scale and harmonic effects its music has. George Harrison of the "Beatles" is only one modern musician who has been concerned with the sitar and other music and modes of the non-European countries.

Miss Tolbert illustrated the twelve-tone scale by the use of tuned music blocks. These she passed out among the members, having them hit the blocks at her direction. There was no succession of tones in regular order as in the diatonic scale and the order was completely random. This idea of no tonality, no "Home Base", so to speak, no pattern for chords in harmony, has been widely used by Schoenberg.

As an illustration of music from Africa, Miss Tolbert played a fragment of a Jazz Mass, a few bars of the "Gloria."

In her discussion of electronic music — using tape recordings superimposed on each other, Miss Tolbert said that this music is sometimes called music concrete. She referred again to the Beatles with the statement that they have used the ancient Greek modal forms with electronic devices.

"Since 1920," Miss Tolbert said, "Noise has been accepted as a component of music." The French composer, Satie, was one who produced noise unblemished by any melody. One composer-performer used his elbows to strike the keyboard and outside of the piano, and plucked the strings to create the effect he wished. Two composers from Columbia have a composition, "Symphony in Sonic Vibrations" written on the theory that its reaction from the audience should be one of fright — that it should scare its hearers. Another composition on the same theory is a "Sonata for Loud Speakers."

Miss Tolbert used a slide projector to show the type of score used by the tape-recorder. Concrete music composers. No indication of music notes appears on the score. There are statements of direction as to frequency, decay (end of tone), amplitude, wave form and timbre, nothing which has any connection with any previous music annotation.

One of the most amusing examples played by Miss Tolbert dealt with computerized music. A score is fed into a computer and the result was a recording of "Bicycle Built For Two", sounding first like an instrument of hornlike timbre, then like a piano solo, and finally like a vocal solo with piano accompaniment.

Miss Tolbert commented on the fact that modernists admire Bach above all previous composers, presumably because of his mathematical genius. The two examples of his work which she used did not typify the more austere mathematical forms of some of his fugues, but were among the most melodic of his writings. The Swingle Singers have been interested in the music of Bach.

One of the last examples of modern scoring for machines that Miss Tolbert presented were the works respectively of a sixth grader, entitled "The Brain at Work" and a seventh grader's contribution called "Emission Embossment". The scores themselves very much resembled the most "Way-out" modern drawing.

In conclusion, Miss Tolbert reiterated her opening statement, "One thing that never changes is the fact of change," and concluded with two quotations from ancient music critics deploring the changes for the worse in the modern music of their day.

In the business meeting which preceded the program, Mrs. O. E. Barr, president, announced that Mrs. William Cox and Mrs. James Sampson will be delegates to the OFWC-GFWC Convention in Cleveland on June 1. She introduced Miss Vicki Fraunfelter, Monday Club's entry in the District Sewing Contest, who won in this district and will be a contestant at the Cleveland Convention.

Cedar Hill Club Plants Trees In Community Park

Cedar Hill Extension Ladies met recently at the Cedar Hill Community Hall. The day was spent in planting trees in the community lawn as an Extension project. Mrs. Wayne Woodward, Fairfield County Extension Agent, was present to witness the tree plantings.

Mrs. Effie Riegel read the poem "Trees," written by Joyce Kilmer.

A few of the men came to assist with the planting of the shade and ornamental trees.

A six foot Norway spruce was planted in the front yard in keeping with the name of Cedar Hill. Two taxus yew evergreens were planted at each side of the steps.

Silver maple and a green ash were planted to make quick shade in the church and community parking area.

A Michigan linden tree was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williamson.

Two buckeye trees were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snyder. This being a public grounds, members wanted to include in the plantings the buckeye, the traditional state tree.

Moss locust was donated by Harry Peters. Rose of sharon were also planted to give mid-summer beauty to the grounds.

A pink and white soulangeana magnolia was donated by Lois Jean Riegel Presler in memory of her late father, Roy Riegel, who passed away five years ago at the age of 72. He spent his entire life across the road within full view of the grounds.

He was a charter member of the Community Club and a member of the church.

A rosy pink dogwood tree was donated by the Cedar Hill Garden Club.

A double red flowering peach tree was placed in the lawn to add variety of seasonal color.

The crocuses that were planted in November of 1968 were blooming for everyone to enjoy.

A pot luck dinner was enjoyed at noon with Mrs. William McCain and Mrs. Talmadge Riegel in charge.

The ladies spent the remainder of the afternoon making flowers out of burlap material.

Ladies who volunteered to water the plantings each month are May, Nora Cromley and Hazel Riegel; June, Betty Huffer and Lois Presler; July, Minnie McCain and Effie Riegel and August, Georgia Snyder.

The men and women who helped with the plantings are Harry Peters, Merle Presler, Ray Fosnaugh, William McCain, Mrs. Nora Cromley, Mrs. Hazel Riegel, Mrs. Talmadge Riegel, Mrs. Hugh Huffer, Mrs. William McCain, Mrs. Georgia Snyder and Mrs. Merle Presler.

Guest Night Planned By Guild 44

Guest Night will be observed by Berger Hospital Guild 44 when they meet 8 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. John Eshelman, 627 Garden Parkway. New officers will be installed.

Reichelderfer, Mrs. D. E. McDonald read a hymn "Oh How Happy Are They" and the program closed with prayer by Mrs. Barnhart.

The business meeting was conducted by the circle chairman, Mrs. R. P. Rader.

She announced May 7 as the date of the May Festival dinner at the church. All circles will participate and reservations are to be made with Mrs. Rader by May 2.

A report was made of the Chillicothe District Conference held in Chillicothe.

The next meeting will be May 8 with a covered dish dinner at the home of Mrs. Rader.

Pontious Church Groups Meet

Willing Workers Class and Women's Society of Christian Service of Pontious United Methodist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Marguerite Stevison.

Mrs. Jean Brobst led devotions and members sang "Tell Me The Story Of Jesus" followed with prayer by Mrs. M. R. White.

The WSCS portion began with singing and a reading by the president, Mrs. Edwina Holderman. Mrs. Mary Richards led in prayer.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Florence Heffner and Mrs. Stevison.

Report Brown No Longer Rhodes Pick For Governor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The word is making the rounds in Columbus that Atty. Gen. Paul W. Brown no longer is heir-apparent to the office held by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes has apparently cooled to Brown as a likely candidate. Brown, a former Supreme Court justice, was appointed attorney general by Rhodes.

Rhodes, according to the reports, would like Brown to return to the court. He now is said to be eyeing Auditor Roger Cloud, former House speaker, as a successor.

In recent weeks, two Republican senators have been heard telling colleagues not to jump on Brown's bandwagon.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, quoting GOP sources, said Rhodes has been unhappy with Brown's public appearances. He doesn't feel Brown has the knack for partisan politics.

Base Closings By Air Force Are Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced plans Thursday to shut down, consolidate or cut back 36 military installations and activities in the United States to save about $95 million annually.

A total of 3,028 civilian jobs will be eliminated and 6,222 military personnel will be transferred to other assignments under the plan.

A planned realignment of North American air defense is a major feature and will save, according to Laird, about $38.1 million.

Major actions affecting the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD), which is in the process of being modernized, include:

—Phasing out this summer of the 4th Air Force of the Aerospace Defense Command (ADC) and its combat center at Hamilton Air Force Base, Navato, Calif. Subordinate units of the 4th Air Force will be assigned to other NORAD subcommands.

—Phasing out this summer of the 36th NORAD division headquarters and its direction center at Topsham Air Force Station, Maine, and the 26th NORAD division headquarters and its direction center at Adair Air Force Station, Corvallis, Ore. Their missions will be taken over by other NORAD divisions.

—Closing by September 1969 of one aircraft control and one warning squadron, five defense early warning stations and six radar squadrons of ADC. Two additional aircraft control and warning squadrons and two radar squadrons will be closed by December 1969.

to make a 190 - pound man drunk? Rep. George V. Voinovich of Cleveland thinks the present law is too easy on the hard drinker arrested for drunken driving. It requires a .15 per cent showing of alcohol in the bloodstream necessary for conviction.

Voinovich has a bill to lower the amount to .10 per cent. The legislator, who weighs 190 pounds, said a man of his weight who hasn't eaten recently would have to have 10 ounces of hard liquor before a test would indicate .15 per cent alcohol content in the blood.

If the drinker was eating he said it would take 12 ounces for him to reach this level.

That's too much, he believes.

"Look what I found." House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess didn't put it in those words, but that was the gist of his news conference Thursday.

Kurfess announced it would not be necessary to adopt any new taxes for the next two years because the administration has found roughly $110 million.

The newly-discovered funds, he said, will be enough to finance the educational program of Gov. James A. Rhodes over the next two years.

Kurfess said the money mostly was in the general fund, where Democrats have contended there have been surpluses all along.

Rep. Richard M. Christiansen, D - 17 Mansfield, was incorrectly listed Wednesday as one of two legislators who opposed letting the 19-year-old voting issue out of committee.

"Actually, I favor that type of legislation," Christiansen said.

It was Rep. Robert C. Carpenter, R-15 Tiffin, who voted against letting the resolution out of the State Government Committee. The other opponent was Rep. Thomas A. Pottenger, R-73 Cincinnati.

The resolution already has passed the Senate and is expected to get through the House, although it may touch off some lively floor action.

Many other legislators, oppose it, but they think it's politically smart to pass the resolution.

It would put the issue before the voters in November.

Wintry Chill Hits Rockies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Cold rain and scattered snow spread a wintry chill over the Rockies today.

Stockmen's warnings were in effect in Wyoming, and fruit growers in Utah and Idaho were warned of freezing temperatures.

The mercury fell to 24 at Ely, in east-central Nevada, shortly after midnight as the new outbreak of unseasonable chilliness swept eastward.

Thundershowers broke out ahead of the cold front and dampened a brief spell of mildness which drove temperatures into the 70s and 80s Thursday from Colorado to Montana.

Clear skies and generally crisp temperatures were widespread from the Midwest to the Atlantic. Frost again nipped sections of the Great Lakes region.

Sheriff, Union Officials To Meet

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the picketing Teamsters Union Local 377 and other labor leaders planned to meet with Mahoning County Sheriff Ray T. Davis to discuss representation of deputies and other employees of the sheriff's department.

Teamsters picketed the county jail Thursday, protesting the sheriff's recognition of a newly formed Mahoning County fraternal Order of Deputy Sheriffs after he had reached a labor agreement with the Teamsters last month.

36 U.S. Senators Support Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty-six senators said today the only way to lasting peace in the Mideast is through face-to-face Arab-Israeli talks, not from outside big power agreements.

"The parties to the conflict must be parties to the settlement," the senators said in a statement commemorating Israel's 21st anniversary. "We oppose any attempt by outside powers to impose halfway measures not conducive to a permanent peace."

The senators—23 Democrats and 13 Republicans—said that "We deeply regret that Israel's Arab neighbors, after three futile and costly wars, still refuse to negotiate a final peace settlement with Israel."

The statement, drafted by Sens. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., supports Israel's opposition to the current talks being conducted at the United Nations by the United States, Soviet Union, Britain and France, aimed at finding a settlement to the explosive Mideast situation.

The Arabs, who have expressed interest in the four power talks, insist they will never sit across a conference table with the Israelis until Tel Aviv first withdraws from the territory captured during the 1967 six-day war.

On that point the senators said: "To ensure direct negotiations and to secure a contractual peace settlement, freely and sincerely signed by the parties themselves, the United States should oppose all pressures upon Israel to withdraw prematurely and unconditionally from any of the territories which Israel now administers."

The senators also deplored "one-sided United Nations resolutions which ignore Arab violations of the cease-fire and which censure Israel's reply and counter action."

The statement praised Israel for the progress it has made but expressed concern that "the people of Israel are still denied their right to peace and that they must carry heavy defense burdens which divert human and material resources from productive pursuits."

The senators' declaration came a day after the State Department repeated its appeal to both sides to adhere to the cease-fire and House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said the United States would never sell out Israel's interest in the big four talks.

The State Department said Egypt's repudiation of the cease-fire "is retrogressive and can only increase tensions in the area."

Mental Facility Limits Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes was told Thursday that future residence facilities for the mentally retarded should be limited to a capacity of 500 persons.

In a series of recommendations, the Ohio Citizen's Committee on Mental Retardation Planning suggested that current facilities be limited to the 500 capacity within 10 years.

The committee recommended the abolition of regulations requiring superintendents of facilities to be medical doctors.

The Model

"Now I'm big—with a hat like Mommy's!" Amy was really full of herself when we went shopping yesterday.

I was amused, too, as I watched her imitate her mother on the way to church the next day. She really had that walk down to a "T."

I'm glad her mother is her model. She couldn't have a better one. Mary's love of God is reflected in everything she does. Her happiness in serving God and His church is contagious. I should know!

When we were married, I was a sometime church-goer. Now, I teach Sunday School, sing in the choir and am chairman of the building committee. I find it deeply satisfying to know that my church needs me.

Every church needs the dedicated effort of its members. Experience the joy of serving God.

Circleville Students Pick Eight Majorettes For Next School Year

By CARLA LEIGH and
CHRIS MacKENZIE

Majorette results were announced last week following CHS 1969-70 majorette tryouts.

Cindy Barnhill reacted to being selected head majorette by saying, "I was very glad to be chosen head majorette; I will try my best."

Cindy has been a majorette for three years and also plays the clarinet.

4-H, Junior Leadership Club and Volunteers take up her spare time. She lives at 106 Park Street with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnhill, Jr.

Cindy feels that her duty as head majorette is "to make up routines and strengthen the morale of the line majorettes."

This summer she plans to be a counselor at the Methodist Church Camp and 4-H camp. After graduation she plans to be an airline stewardess.

Connie Rowland is the new drum majorette for CHS next year. She resides at 161 E. Mill St. with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Roland.

Connie considers it a great honor being a majorette and she stated that she would do her best to fulfill her position. She is also a member of the Student Council and attends the Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Line majorettes are Christy Dresbach, Connie Downing, Chris Edstrom, Chrystil Wilson, Kim Graham and Paula Hedges.

Christy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dresbach who resides at 245 Meadow Drive.

Her activities include band, English Merit Society, and GAA.

Christy said she was hoping to be a majorette because she loves to march in parades and thinks twirling is fun. She also commented, "Even though it is a lot of work and sometimes I feel as if I'm just too petrified to move, it is really fun."

She especially likes traveling to different places with the CHS band.

Christy thinks our band is really great, but that we need everyone's support, not only for money, but also for school spirit.

Kim Graham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Graham and resides at 389 Northridge Road.

Kim stated "It makes me feel good to know I will be helping in leading the CHS band of which I am very proud. I feel as if it really adds to the school spirit." She is a member of the GAA and attends the Methodist Church.

Kim hopes that enough people will give money to band boosters to pay for the new uniforms.

Chrystil Wilson is another line majorette. She is the daughter of Mrs. Joan Wilson who resides at 142 E. Mill St.

As well as being a member of the band, Chrystil participates in SOS, Student Council and attends the United Methodist Church.

What is her opinion of being a majorette? "I simply love it!" Chrystil also added, "Majoretting is a lot of fun and hard work."

Connie Downing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Downing, 375 Edwards Road was one of the selected freshmen.

How did she react to her selection as a majorette for the CHS band?

"Well, I screamed right in homeroom. I was really surprised to, because so many girls tried out," she stated.

She was majorette for the junior high band this past year, has played clarinet in the band for two years and is active in volunteers.

Connie's goal as majorette is to "work hard and attempt to be drum majorette when I'm a senior."

This summer Connie plans to work for the Head Start program.

Chris Edstrom, who resides in Knollwood Village with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Edstrom Jr., is another majorette chosen from the freshmen class.

Chris is a flutist in the junior high band and also a majorette. She is active in Drama Club and collects antiques in her spare time.

Chris stated, "The competition was tough. I was shocked that I was selected."

"I am very happy that I was chosen." This was the reaction of Paula Hedges, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hedges, 980 N. Court St.

Paula has played piccolo in the band for four years and was a color guard this year. She is also active in GAA and Volunteers.

This summer she plans to

MAJORETTES — Circleville students picked eight majorettes for the 1969-70 school year. The majorettes will be (first row) Connie Rowland, head majorette, (second row) Christy Dresbach, Paula Hedges, Connie Downing, (third row) Chris Edstrom, Crystal Wilson, Cindy Barnhill and head majorette Kim Graham.

Three Trackmen Of Week Are Spotligthted At CHS

BRUCE FRANCIS

By WAYNE GLOVER

This week three of CHS trackmen are being highlighted.

Bruce Francis, 18, is participating in his second year of track. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Francis, and his brother, Billy, at 960 S. Pickaway St.

Track is not Bruce's only sports as he has played football and wrestled for two years. He likes to work on cars and bowl when not engaged in sports.

Bruce is enthusiastic about this year's track team and when asked to comment on it he replied, "We have a lot of team spirit and with the help of Mr. Lint and Mr. Williams, along with some individual effort on our part, we should easily win the league."

Jack Boyer resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Boyer, at 365 E. Main St.

Though Jack has wrestled for three years, winning such awards as the quick-pin trophy, outstanding wrestler, most important wrestler and the coveted all-league trophy, he is making his debut as a trackman.

New to the sport as he is, Jack has already won six first and second places in the shotput, discus and mile relay.

When not involved in athletics, Jack enjoys working with motorcycles and cars, and after graduation he plans to attend the United Electronics Institute in Akron.

Jack says he is confident of a league victory if all the team members work at it.

One of CHS' trackmen is 18-year old Steve Lingo who resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lingo and one brother, Dave at 235 Cedar Heights Road.

This is Steve's second year on the track team and his specialties include the shotput, the discus, and the mile relay. He says he is attempting the pole vault.

JACK BOYER

When Steve is not "generally goofing off" he occupies his time with sports. Among his favorites, other than track, are canoeing, wrestling and football.

He has represented CHS on the mat since his freshman year and he has participated in football two years.

Besides sports, Steve is interested in electronics and plans to enter Ankrn's United Electronics Institute after graduation. Steve feels this year's track team possesses plenty of depth in all events and believes "we should take the league."

Charles Whitfield Wins Top Award At State Science Fair

By HOLLY BACH

Fifteen-year-old Charles "Chuck" Whitfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Whitfield of 670 Garden Parkway, was awarded a superior rating at the 21 Annual Ohio Academy of Science State Science Day, held at the Ohio Exposition Center in Columbus April 12.

CHARLES WHITFIELD

Registration took place from 7:30-9:30 a.m. when Chuck registered his project "The Feasibility of a Lightweight Reactor Shield in Regard to a Nuclear Powered Aircraft."

All projects were assembled and made ready for the judging from 9-12 a.m. After lunch the winners were announced and the awards were presented.

Chuck said that the purpose of his project "is to determine the material, shape, position, and effect of shielding, for an airplane powered by a nuclear reactor."

The conclusion at this step of the study is only temporary pending further study.

Because he had been working for about a year on this project Chuck was very glad to get the superior rating. Now he is working on getting his project into the National Science Fair, since his superior rating does not necessarily mean he will automatically go to the National Competition.

Students Plan Diverse Jobs For Summer

By PATTY GLITT

Summer vacation will soon be here and many students are looking forward to their summer jobs. The roving reporter believes that most CHS students will have far from an idle summer. Listed are some of the students and the jobs they hope to secure this summer.

Sue Bennett — "I think I'll work for my dad at the North End Market."

Linda Reithmiller — "Good ol' Risch Drug Store."

Gale Wolfe — "Lifeguard at the Circleville Swimming Pool."

Linda Garrett — "I hope to be working at GE."

Patricia Brackett — "I hope to work at the Kentucky Fried Chicken place."

Pam Crabtree — "I think I would like to work at a grocery store or in my grandmother's restaurant."

Barbara Schuer — "I would like to work at GE."

Mike Forrest — "I'll be working full time at the Fast Freeze."

Diane Frazier — "Part time work at Kentucky Fried Chicken."

Cindy Barnhill — "full time

Patriotism Is Many Things To Students

By DEBBIE HEISKELL

Webster defines patriotism as the love for or devotion to one's country. Several CHS students were asked to explain, in their own words, what patriotism means to them.

Mary Pat Gerheart — "Patriotism means, not just saying, but believing, the Pledge of Allegiance, and not just reading, but upholding the preamble to the constitution. Patriotism means being willing to fight to death for the privilege to live in a free country and having our unalienable rights protected."

Diane Patrick — "To me, patriotism means being a true American. It means taking pride in this great nation of freedom and prosperity. It means supporting and standing behind the decisions of the men we have elected to lead us. Patriotism means accepting the responsibility that goes hand in hand with democracy and freedom."

It means not only supporting our own country, but fighting for and safeguarding the freedom of all countries who love liberty and the right to determine their own way of life and who would follow in our foot steps down the path of individual justice and freedom."

Bill Adkins — "Patriotism means being truthful to myself and my country — to help to make it the greatest place to live on earth and insure the democratic procedures by staying moderate and not obtaining radical motives."

Billy Thomas — "Patriotism means fighting for your country in order to keep it free of Communism and other tyrannical rule. It should be something inside of you that burns high when the fate of your country is at stake. You should be willing to sacrifice your life in order to keep the country you love free!"

Gail Sprenger — "The word 'patriotism' has been used in many ways to convey many different meanings. To me, patriotism means loyalty to my country and flag, and respect for my government leaders whether I voted for them or not. It means supporting your country loyally and if there is some major wrong in the governmental policies, expressing it in a peaceful manner."

Tonight and Saturday at 8 p.m., the curtain will rise in the CHS auditorium for the Senior Class musical "110 in the Shade."

Hammer and paint have been the primary tools of the Seniors this week as they put the finishing touches on the play. Rehearsals were sparked with excitement and enthusiasm as the cast sensed the nearness of production.

Costumes which have been assembled over the weeks were put on display for the first time. Seniors were seen taking a few minutes of their busy time to brag about the progress and ultimate success of their endeavor.

Tickets for the production may be purchased from any cast member or at the high school. The cost is $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students.

For an evening of enjoyment, come see the Circleville High School Senior Class play, "110 in the Shade." It's "cool!"

2 Seniors Are DE Students Of Week

DIANE RHODES

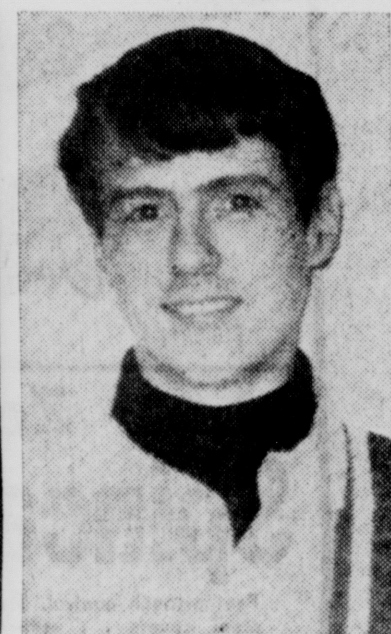

By MARY TOLLIVER

One of the DE students of this week is Diane Rhodes.

Diane resides with her father, Mr. Wilmer Rhodes at 708 Clinton St. She has two sisters, Sandy and Barbara, and three brothers, Larry, Garry and Kenny.

Diane is enrolled in the business course and is active in DECA, where she is social committee chairman.

A few of her hobbies are sewing and crocheting rugs.

RON BROWN

Diane feels that DE can help a person when he is out of school.

"This year I have found DE very interesting. Besides on-the-job training, you learn responsibility and how to cope with many problems. DE also teaches you the fundamentals of selling and makes you feel needed in the business world today."

Ron Brown is the other featured DE student this week. He resides at 233 S. Scioto St. with his mother, Mrs. Bernice George. He has one sister, Mrs. Richard Rouse.

Ronnie is in the general course at school and his favorite subject is government.

MRS. PRITT

By JAN CLIFTON

One of Circleville's finest teachers will be retiring this year. She is Mrs. Frances Pritt who has taught for 35 years in the Circleville School system. She resides at 130 Seyfert Ave.

Mrs. Pritt was graduated from Circleville High School with the honor of being salutatorian of her class. After graduation she attended Capital University. Fourth, fifth, sixth and special education are among the grades she has taught.

Mrs. Pritt is a member of CTA, COTA, OEA, NEA, and the Methodist Church. She claims that "school takes most of my time, but I enjoy playing euchre when I have the chance."

Every teacher seems to have a pet peeve and Mrs. Pritt seems only to be "bugged" by students that do not listen or follow directions. She feels that new teachers have been exposed to different ideas concerning teaching, but basically things have not changed.

Her teaching philosophy is simply, "I am here to help children who have the desire to learn and help the other children who want to learn."

Mrs. Pritt has various plans after retiring, including teaching part time and visiting a niece in California and a nephew in Oklahoma.

Circleville Students Pick Eight Majorettes For Next School Year

By CARLA LEIGH and
CHRIS MacKENZIE

Majorette results were announced last week following CHS 1968-70 majorette tryouts.

Cindy Barnhill reacted to being selected head majorette by saying, "I was very glad to be chosen head majorette; I will try my best."

Cindy has been a majorette for three years and also plays the clarinet.

4-H, Junior Leadership Club and Volunteers take up her spare time. She lives at 106 Park Street with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnhill, Jr.

Cindy feels that her duty as head majorette is "to make up routines and strengthen the morale of the line majorettes."

This summer she plans to be a counselor at the Methodist Church Camp and 4-H camp. After graduation she plans to be an airline stewardess.

Connie Rowland is the new drum majorette for CHS next year. She resides at 161 E. Mill St. with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Roland.

Connie considers it a great honor being a majorette and she stated that she would do her best to fulfill her position. She is also a member of the Student Council and attends the Church of Christ in Christian Union.

Line majorettes are Christy Dresbach, Connie Downing, Chris Edstrom, Chrystil Wilson, Kim Graham and Paula Hedges.

Christy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dresbach who resides at 245 Meadow Drive.

Her activities include band, English Merit Society, and GAA. Christy said she was hoping to be a majorette because she loves to march in parades and thinks twirling is fun. She also commented, "Even though it is a lot of work and sometimes I feel as if I'm just too petrified to move, it is really fun."

She especially likes traveling to different places with the CHS band.

Christy thinks our band is really great, but that we need everyone's support, not only for money, but also for school spirit.

Kim Graham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Graham and resides at 389 Northridge Road.

Kim stated "It makes me feel good to know I will be helping in leading the CHS band of which I am very proud. I feel as if it really adds to the school spirit." She is a member of the GAA and attends the Methodist Church.

Kim hopes that enough people will give money to band boosters to pay for the new uniforms.

Chrystil Wilson is another line majorette. She is the daughter of Mrs. Joan Wilson who resides at 142 E. Mill St.

As well as being a member of the band, Chrystil participates in SOS, Student Council and attends the United Methodist Church.

What is her opinion of being a majorette? "I simply love it!" Chrystil also added, "Majoretting is a lot of fun and hard work."

Connie Downing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Downing, 375 Edwards Road was one of the selected freshmen.

How did she react to her selection as a majorette for the CHS band?

"Well, I screamed right in homeroom. I was really surprised to, because so many girls tried out," she stated.

She was majorette for the junior high band this past year, has played clarinet in the band for two years and is active in volunteers.

Connie's goal as majorette is to "work hard and attempt to be drum majorette when I'm a senior."

This summer Connie plans to work for the Head Start program.

Chris Edstrom, who resides in Knollwood Village with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Edstrom Jr., is another majorette chosen from the freshman class.

Chris is a flutist in the junior high band and also a majorette. She is active in Drama Club and collects antiques in her spare time.

Chris stated, "The competition was tough. I was shocked that I was selected." "I am very happy that I was chosen." This was the reaction of Paula Hedges, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Hedges, 980 N. Court St.

Paula has played piccolo in the band for four years and was a color guard this year. She is also active in GAA and Volunteers.

This summer she plans to

MAJORETTES — Circleville students picked eight majorettes for the 1969-70 school year. The majorettes will be (first row) Connie Rowland, head majorette, (second row) Christy Dresbach, Paula Hedges, Connie Downing, (third row) Chris Edstrom, Crystal Wilson, Cindy Barnhill and head majorette Kim Graham.

Three Trackmen Of Week Are Spotlited At CHS

BRUCE FRANCIS

By WAYNE GLOVER

This week three of CHS trackmen are being highlighted.

Bruce Francis, 18, is participating in his second year of track. He lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Francis, and his brother, Billy, at 960 S. Pickaway St.

Track is not Bruce's only sports as he has played football and wrestled for two years. He likes to work on cars and bowl when not engaged in sports.

Bruce is enthusiastic about this year's track team and when asked to comment on it he replied, "We have a lot of team spirit and with the help of Mr. Lint and Mr. Williams, along with some individual effort on our part, we should easily win the league."

Jack Boyer resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Boyer, at 365 E. Main St.

Though Jack has wrestled for three years, winning such awards as the quick-pin trophy, outstanding wrestler, most important all-league trophy, he is making his debut as a trackman.

New to the sport as he is, Jack has already won six first and second places in the shotput, discus and mile relay.

When not involved in athletics, Jack enjoys working with motorcycles and cars, and after graduation he plans to attend the United Electronics Institute in Akron.

Jack says he is confident of a league victory if all the team members work at it.

One of CHS' trackmen is 18-year old Steve Lingo who resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lingo and one brother, Dave at 235 Cedar Heights Road.

This is Steve's second year on the track team and his specialties include the shotput.

Charles Whitfield Wins Top Award At State Science Fair

By HOLLY BACH

Fifteen-year-old Charles "Chuck" Whitfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Whitfield of 670 Garden Parkway, was awarded a superior rating at the 21 Annual Ohio Academy of Science State Science Day, held at the Ohio Exposition Center in Columbus April 12.

for about a year on this project

Chuck was very glad to get the superior rating. Now he is working on getting his project into the National Science Fair, since his superior rating does not necessarily mean he will automatically go to the National Competition.

CHARLES WHITFIELD

Registration took place from 7:30-9:30 a.m. when Chuck registered his project "The Feasibility of a Lightweight Reactor Shield in Regard to a Nuclear Powered Aircraft."

All projects were assembled and made ready for the judging from 9-12 a.m. After lunch the winners were announced and the awards were presented.

Chuck said that the purpose of his project "is to determine the material, shape, position, and effect of shielding, for an airplane powered by a nuclear reactor."

The conclusion at this step of the study is only temporary pending further study.

Patriotism Is Many Things To Students

By DEBBIE HEISKELL

Webster defines patriotism as the love for or devotion to one's country. Several CHS students were asked to explain, in their own words, what patriotism means to them.

Mary Pat Gerheart — "Patriotism means, not just saying, but believing, the Pledge of Allegiance, and not just reading, but upholding the preamble to the constitution. Patriotism means being willing to fight to death for the privilege to live in a free country and having our unalienable rights protected."

Diane Patrick — "To me, patriotism means being a true American. It means taking pride in this great nation of freedom and prosperity. It means supporting and standing behind the decisions of the men we have elected to lead us. Patriotism means accepting the responsibility that goes hand in hand with democracy and freedom."

It means not only supporting our own country, but fighting for and safeguarding the freedom of all countries who love liberty and the right to determine their own way of life and who would follow in our foot steps down the path of individual justice and freedom."

Bill Adkins — "Patriotism means being truthful to myself and my country — to help to make it the greatest place to live on earth and insure the democratic procedures by staying moderate and not obtaining radical motives."

Billy Thomas — "Patriotism means fighting for your country in order to keep it free of Communism and other tyrannical rule. It should be something inside of you that burns high when the fate of your country is at stake. You should be willing to sacrifice your life in order to keep the country you love free!"

Gail Sprenger — "The word 'patriotism' has been used in many ways to convey many different meanings. To me, patriotism means loyalty to my country and flag, and respect for my government leaders whether I voted for them or not. It means supporting your country loyally and if there is some major wrong in the governmental policies, expressing it in a peaceful manner."

Tonight and Saturday at 8 p.m., the curtain will rise in the CHS auditorium for the Senior Class musical "110 in the Shade."

Hammer and paint have been the primary tools of the Seniors this week as they put the finishing touches on the play. Rehearsals were sparked with excitement and enthusiasm as the cast sensed the nearness of production.

Costumes which have been assembled over the weeks were put on display for the first time.

Seniors were seen taking a few minutes of their busy time to brag about the progress and ultimate success of their endeavor.

Tickets for the production may be purchased from any cast member or at the high school. The cost is $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students.

For an evening of enjoyment, come see the Circleville High School Senior Class play, "110 in the Shade." It's "cool!"

2 Seniors Are DE Students Of Week

DIANE RHODES

By MARY TOLLIVER

One of the DE students of this week is Diane Rhodes.

Diane resides with her father, Mr. Wilmer Rhodes at 708 Clinton St. She has two sisters, Sandy and Barbara, and three brothers, Larry, Garry and Kenny.

Diane is enrolled in the business course and is active in DECA, where she is social committee chairman.

A few of her hobbies are sewing and crocheting rugs.

RON BROWN

Diane feels that DE can help a person when he is out of school.

"This year I have found DE very interesting. Besides on-the-job training, you learn responsibility and how to cope with many problems. DE also teaches you the fundamentals of selling and makes you feel needed in the business world today."

Ron Brown is the other featured DE student this week. He resides at 233 S. Scioto St. with his mother, Mrs. Bernice George. He has one sister, Mrs. Richard Rouse.

Ronnie is in the general course at school and his favorite subject is government.

Among his likes are Bev and cars. His dislikes are working and Friday nights. Ronnie's hobbies are working on stock cars, horseback riding and swimming.

When asked what he thought of DE, his reply was, "I think DE is a real great course. It helps you learn about the field of distribution, the art of selling and how to wait on customers without getting all shook up. I believe that DE will help me find a job easier because of the training I've had at school and Firestone's."

NEW YORK (AP) — George Washington was "a warm and passionate human being" who had been petrified by history into a "graven image," narrator Melvyn Douglas said at the outset of the NBC special Thursday night.

The program's teaser and its title, "Meet George Washington," promised to acquaint us with "the best known unknown in our history."

What followed was a quick resume of the American Revolution, the sight of some interesting old portraits, excellent film of Valley Forge and Mount Vernon today. But that promised portrait of the father of our country, the man behind the Gilbert Stuart portrait, never materialized.

Perhaps the first president's image—"cold, remote," the script called it—cannot be penetrated. Little that the prologue promised was amplified and George Washington remained the same distant, heroic figure he was before.

"He fell in love with his best friend's wife," declared narrator Douglas. But this was disposed of in a quick sequence showing Sally Fairfax holding a rose and a sentence or two explaining that she was a life-long romance to whom he wrote "teasing and tender letters."

As a device in attracting attention, the prologue worked. And what followed stood nicely as a handsome, well-constructed program in the almost patented style of "Project 20." A variety of methods was used to dramatize the American struggle for independence—archival material, old art, new illustrations and contemporary film.

David Hartman, the lanky addition to "The Virginian" cast for the past couple of seasons, will stabilize his horse in September in favor of a more contemporary role in NBC's "The Bold Ones." Hartman still has not used his baritone singing voice for television although he has sung on the Broadway stage.

Bobbie Gentry will star in a special, "The Spring Thing," next week—a one-shot. Her weekly variety series did not find a network niche here, but has been sold to the Canadian TV network for next season.

ABC executives have been talking series with the Smothers Brothers and while it is unlikely they will turn up on that network by September, there is a chance that if ABC is satisfied it can control the boys, they may bob up as a midseason replacement series.

On another front, Virginia Graham and the "Girl Talk" bosses are still battling over her demands for more money. Miss Graham is making the rounds of the network talk shows while Betsy Palmer is pinch-hitting as hostess of the syndicated daytime show seen on some 85 stations around the country.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The way religious people talk is the tip-off. It has changed, subtly. And that clue hints at a basic change in their attitude toward God's activity in the world.

The transition was pointed out by a Roman Catholic theologian, the Rev. Dennis J. Geaney, of St. Louis, who detected the symptoms of it in current idioms of speech.

Once was the day, he notes, when personal conversation and letters of believers were sprinkled with phrases such as, "We'll see you next year, God willing," our "Uncle Tim" is getting over his lumbago, Thank God."

Those frequent references to divine decision in virtually every turn and circumstance in life, he says, indicated a certain, fatalistic view of God's relationship to man that is fading away—and so is the frequency of the usages.

"It's upsetting to many people," he said in a telephone interview, "but it's something we have to face realistically."

In the old-time attitude, he says, people tended to duck their own responsibilities for events, and shift the blame to providence. "God's will controlled all life and there was not too much any of us could do about it except ask God to intervene," he says, and then gamely accept whatever happened as divine decree.

But that view is on the wane, he adds, and the change brings out a different, developing concept of God's participation in human affairs. A columnist for many diocesan newspapers, the Augustinian priest writes:

"The new view sees God as giving to man all the potential for working out his destiny, to make sense out of life, and to face all the uncertainties and ambiguities with his native resources."

"This is not a denial of God's action in man's life, but rather God leaving man alone, like parents do, with adult children. Because the parents withdraw their protectiveness does not mean the adult offspring are less loved."

"Quite the contrary. Parents who are always interfering in the growing up process of their children are preventing them from becoming mature responsible adults."

Boston-born Father Geaney, a long-time teacher and pastor in Chicago who recently became superior of the Augustinian

Academy in St. Louis, says the emergence of the change in Christians' ways of speaking struck him particularly when a noted nun artist, former Sister Corita Kent, announced she was leaving her religious order.

She said then, "I've reached the point where I want to do a different thing. You should be true to your own conscience." That, she added, expresses the "good, old-fashioned way of saying you know what God's will is."

Father Geaney said the changed understanding undoubtedly makes "many people uncomfortable," since "most of us do not like to make decisions" and would rather drift along leaving choices to be determined by God or church.

That older style, assuming that "life was ruled or controlled by the outside," is what Father Geaney calls the "security blanket" approach.

Its "acceptance of life, no matter what it was like—as God's will—was very comforting," he says. "It also legitimized one's irresponsibility or failure to bring about social changes."

But it is being cast aside, he adds, in the understanding of man's relation both to God and to the church, which also is putting more emphasis on the responsibility of individuals to make decisions on the basis of conscience.

The program's teaser and its title, "Meet George Washington," promised to acquaint us with "the best known unknown in our history."

What followed was a quick resume of the American Revolution, the sight of some interesting old portraits, excellent film of Valley Forge and Mount Vernon today. But that promised portrait of the father of our country, the man behind the Gilbert Stuart portrait, never materialized.

Perhaps the first president's image—"cold, remote," the script called it—cannot be penetrated. Little that the prologue promised was amplified and George Washington remained the same distant, heroic figure he was before.

"He fell in love with his best friend's wife," declared narrator Douglas. But this was disposed of in a quick sequence showing Sally Fairfax holding a rose and a sentence or two explaining that she was a life-long romance to whom he wrote "teasing and tender letters."

As a device in attracting attention, the prologue worked. And what followed stood nicely as a handsome, well-constructed program in the almost patented style of "Project 20." A variety of methods was used to dramatize the American struggle for independence—archives, material, old art, new illustrations and contemporary film.

David Hartman, the lanky addition to "The Virginian" cast for the past couple of seasons, will stable his horse in September in favor of a more contemporary role in NBC's "The Bold Ones." Hartman still has not used his baritone singing voice for television although he has sung on the Broadway stage.

Bobbie Gentry will star in a special, "The Spring Thing," next week—a one-shot. Her weekly variety series did not find a network niche here, but has been sold to the Canadian TV network for next season.

ABC executives have been talking series with the Smothers Brothers and while it is unlikely they will turn up on that network by September, there is a chance that if ABC is satisfied it can control the boys, they may bob up as a midseason re-

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The way religious people talk is the tip-off. It has changed, subtly. And that clue hints at a basic change in their attitude toward God's activity in the world.

The transition was pointed out by a Roman Catholic theologian, the Rev. Dennis J. Geaney, of St. Louis, who detected the symptoms of it in current idioms of speech.

Once was the day, he notes, when personal conversation and letters of believers were sprinkled with phrases such as, "We'll see you next year, God willing," our "Uncle Tim is getting over his lumbago, Thank God."

Those frequent references to divine decision in virtually every turn and circumstance in life, he says, indicated a certain, fatalistic view of God's relationship to man that is fading away—and so is the frequency of the usages.

"It's upsetting to many people," he said in a telephone interview. "but it's something we have to face realistically."

In the old-time attitude, he says, people tended to duck their own responsibilities for events, and shift the blame to providence. "God's will controlled all life and there was not too much any of us could do about it except ask God to intervene," he says, and then gamely accept whatever happened as divine decree.

But that view is on the wane, he adds, and the change brings out a different, developing concept of God's participation in human affairs. A columnist for many diocesan newspapers, the Augustinian priest writes:

"The new view sees God as giving to man all the potential for working out his destiny, to make sense out of life, and to face all the uncertainties and ambiguities with his native resources."

"This is not a denial of God's action in man's life, but rather God leaving man alone, like parents do, with adult children. Because the parents withdraw their protectiveness does not mean the adult offspring are less loved."

"Quite the contrary. Parents who are always interfering in the growing up process of their children are preventing them from becoming mature responsible adults."

Boston-born Father Geaney, a long-time teacher and pastor in Chicago who recently became superior of the Augustinian

Academy in St. Louis, says the emergence of the change in Christians' ways of speaking struck him particularly when a noted nun artist, former Sister Corita Kent, announced she was leaving her religious order.

She said then, "I've reached the point where I want to do a different thing. You should be true to your own conscience." That, she added, expresses the "good, old-fashioned way of saying you know what God's will is."

Father Geaney said the changed understanding undoubtedly makes "many people uncomfortable," since "most of us do not like to make decisions" and would rather drift along leaving choices to be determined by God or church.

That older style, assuming that "life was ruled or controlled by the outside," is what Father Geaney calls the "security blanket" approach.

Its "acceptance of life, no matter what it was like—as God's will—was very comforting," he says. "It also legitimized one's irresponsibility or failure to bring about social changes."

But it is being cast aside, he adds, in the understanding of man's relation both to God and to the church, which also is putting more emphasis on the responsibility of individuals to make decisions on the basis of conscience.

Gold Rush Talk Won't Buy A Wife

DEAR ABBY: I am 66 years old and could retire any time, but I like to keep busy. I have one business which nets me about $50,000 a year. I own two homes, some good rental property, and a little real estate.

I lost my wife two years ago. I am all alone, and would like to get married again. My friends think I'm crazy—that I should "enjoy" life for a while. What's to enjoy all alone?

There are several women who are after me, but they are too young. I want a lady about 50 who wants to get married and stay married. I don't want a gold digger. I want to be a husband again.

CALIFORNIAN: There are probably more women in the state of California who are "about 50" and want to be wives again than anywhere else in the world. My advice to you is to keep your eyes open and your mouth closed. And quit talking about your assets or you'll start another "Gold Rush" in California that will make the original look like a Girl Scout picnic.

DEAR ABBY: When a kid goes wrong, what factor is more responsible? His heredity or his environment?

NEEDS TO KNOW: DEAR NEEDS: It's a toss-up. But one thing is certain, his parents will get blamed for both.

DEAR ABBY: Girls like to be alone sometime. I know I do. I lock myself in my bedroom and listen to the radio. Sometimes if I have a boyfriend and he's mad at me, or I think I've lost him, I cry.

But my mother won't leave me alone. I can't be in my room for more than five minutes until she will make me come out.

What am I supposed to do so she will leave me alone? I don't want to break up and cry in front of her.

CRY BABY: DEAR CRY BABY: Your signature told me more than your letter. Are you sure your mother makes you come out of your room if you're in there for more than "five minutes"? I doubt it. Perhaps she thinks you spend too much time brooding and feeling sorry for yourself — which is unhealthy and unproductive. Yes, girls need some "privacy" — but be honest. Haven't you been overdoing it?

DEAR ABBY: I used to encourage my teen-age children to read your column, but lately

I've had to hide the paper. All you've been printing it seems are letters from unwed mothers, unfaithful husbands, and some crazy nut who likes to sleep in his wife's babydoll pajamas. Are you picking more sensational letters just to make more of this stuff going on now than before?

ALBANY MOTHER: DEAR MOTHER: I doubt that there is more of this "stuff" going on than before, but one confession inspires another, and people are less inclined to be ashamed of their problems when they realize that someone else has the same problem.

Laird Nixes Beallsville War Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saying all American combat troops must share the hazards of Vietnam equally, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has turned down a request that servicemen from Beallsville, Ohio, be removed from the war zone.

Five servicemen from Beallsville, a town of 500 residents, have died in Vietnam. Four more now are in Vietnam and two others are on assignment to go there.

Rep. Clarence E. Miller, R-Ohio, who had asked Laird personally to remove the other Beallsville area men from the fighting zone, said Thursday Laird had advised him by letter that such action was non-consistent with established policy.

Saying in his letter that he deeply regrets that any American serviceman must be sent to face the hazards of Vietnam, Laird added:

"We are also acutely aware of the personal anxiety and concern of the Beallsville residents with respect to their combat losses.

"However, in fairness to all military personnel and their families, the military services closely adhere to the established policy which provides that overseas assignments, including those in areas of potential combat, must be shared as equitably as practicable by all military personnel consistent with the rank and skill requirements of our overseas units."

White House Discounts Zoom In Living Costs; Sees Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House sources insist last month's jump in living costs—biggest in 18 years—doesn't mean a new twist upward in the inflation spiral.

"We don't foresee an increase in the price trend, we foresee a decrease," said a Nixon administration source. "But this should increase the worry about the state of the economy and the need for economic restraint."

Labor Department Wednesday reported that the cost of living rose eight-tenths of one per cent in March, the biggest jump since the Korean war year of 1951.

Last month's index was 125.6, meaning it cost $12.56 to buy what $10 would have purchased in typical family goods and services in the 1957-59 base period. A substantial rise was reported for food, clothing and gasoline.

Wholesale prices of foodstuffs and industrial raw materials also rose sharply, five-tenths of one percent, bringing that index to 111.7, a rise of 3.2 per cent in a year.

"During the first quarter of this year, consumer prices rose 1.5 per cent, the sharpest rate of advance for any three-month period since May-July, 1956," said the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics. "The index now stands 5.1 per cent above a year ago."

The White House source said in spite of the figures, "the economy is slowing down," although the March hike "does suggest a long time to get down to a more acceptable level of price increases."

Elk Bowlers Honored Nate Colbert, San Diego Whip Astros, 6-4

NEW OFFICERS — Circleville BPO Elks Bowling League elected the officers for the 1969-70 season Thursday. They are, from the left, Lloyd Edgington, vice president; Ross Spalding, secretary; Harry Clifton, treasurer, and standing, Lloyd Minor, president.

THE WINNERS — The members of the winning team of the Circleville BPO Elks No. 77 Bowling League were honored Thursday at a banquet held at the lodge. They are, from the left, Charles Bartholomew, Ben Johnson, Bill McGinnis, Lester Wolford and Ross Spalding.

The Circleville BPO Elks bowling league held its annual awards banquet Thursday in the lodge.

A bowling ball, donated by John Dietrich, manager of Circle D Lanes, was given as a door prize. It was won by Kelly Boyer.

Team number 7, composed of Ross Spalding, Lester Wolford, Charles Bartholomew, William McGinnis and Ben Johnson was the winning team.

John Happenny rolled the high series, 650 and the high individual game, 258, during the season. He had the high average of 180.

TEAM No. 4 had the high team series of 3,047. Members of the team are Robert Moon, George Eitel, Carl Bach, Leon Sims and Dave Crawford. Team No. 2 had the high single game during the season of 1,079.

Members of team 2 are John Happenny, Harry Clifton, Don Mancini, Walter Garner and William Betts.

David Crawford was the most improved bowler of the year.

The bowlers were served a roast beef dinner prepared by Harry Clifton and his kitchen crew.

Officers elected for the 1969-70 season are Lloyd Minor, president; Lloyd Edgington, vice president; Ross Spalding, secretary; Harry Clifton, treasurer.

Logan Elm Stops Vikings In 7-2 Tilt

Logan Elm defeated Teays Valley, 7-2, in a baseball game played on the Braves' diamond.

Danny Fausnaugh was the winning pitcher. Going the route on the mound for Logan Elm, he walked four, fanned 10 and allowed only two hits.

Tom Pickering was the losing hurler. He walked two, fanned seven and gave up nine hits.

Steve Sykes, Fausnaugh and Dave Reichelderfer all had two hits for the Braves. One of Reichelderfer's was a double.

BANGING out singles were Steve Curtiss, K. C. Jones, and Pete Strawser.

Teays Valley scored its two runs in the first inning on two walks and a hit.

The Braves scored one in the third, one in the fifth, and five in the sixth.

Logan Elm hosts Piketon tonight and on Tuesday hosts the winner of the Canal Winchester-The Plains central district baseball game.

Boros Only 'Name' In Nelson Classic

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — If it weren't for Julius Boros, they'd be calling the Byron Nelson Golf Classic the Who's He Open.

Big Julie, the 49-year-old PGA champion was the only name player in the first four going into today's second round of the $100,000 test on the tough, 7,086-yard, par-70 Preston Trail Golf Club course.

Lean Bert Greene had the first-round lead at 66, while Boros, at 67 was tied with Chris Blocker and Bob Menne.

Greene, 25, and Blocker, 29, still are looking for their first pro victory. And Menne, 27, from Andover, Mass., simply is looking to make the cut.

The curly-haired youngster is in his first year on the tour, has made the cut only once, won $447 in the Alameden Open, and failed to qualify in six tournaments. He qualified here with a 70.

"I guess I'm a little new in this league," Menne said after coaxing in a curling nine-foot putt on the final hole for a birdie. He was the last man in the 147-man field off the wind-swept course.

Majestic Prince In Race Spotlight

Majestic Prince, the California Comet who has stirred the imagination of the turf world, takes over the racing spotlight this weekend.

Unbeaten in six career starts and heralded as the best 3-year-old colt in many a year, Majestic Prince is scheduled to start in the seven-furlong Stepping Stone race at the opening of Churchill Downs Saturday.

It will be the final prep for the famed son of Raise A Native before the May 3 Kentucky Derby in which he is favored to beat Top Knight, the East's top contender, and start a triumphant sweep of the Triple Crown Classics. Bill Hartack will ride him.

"I started the tour in January," he said, "and I haven't done anything yet. I've missed the cut in the last five or six tournaments and failed to qualify in the others.

"But I'm putting well now and have a better mental attitude." Greene, now playing out of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., is in his third year on the tour, while Blocker is in his fifth year. But they've yet to win. And, with Menne, the trio has a total yearly earning of $8,905, $7,062 by Greene.

A group of six was tied at 69, one under. They included Arnold Palmer, U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, Australian Bruce Crampton, lefty Bob Charles of New Zealand, Bob Lunn and Orville Moody.

Miller Barber, the defending champion, blew to an 80.

Last October, the Houston Astros decided Nate Colbert couldn't help them. Six months later, they figured he couldn't hurt them either.

Colbert took the first brush-off in stride, but he wasn't about to take another lying down.

The rookie infielder, a former Houston prospect landed by San Diego in the October expansion draft, confounded the Astros' strategy and tactics Thursday night and beat them 4-1 with his first major league homer, a three-run eighth inning wallop.

After Tony Gonzalez doubled with two out in the Padres' eighth, Houston reliever Jack Billingham walked Ollie Brown intentionally to get at Colbert—then flattened him with an inside pitch.

Colbert picked himself up and tagged the next pitch 420 feet into the left center field bleachers, breaking a 1-1 deadlock. The homer was the first hit off Billingham in 58 games, including 50 with Los Angeles last season.

Elsewhere in the National League, Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 8-7, San Francisco topped Atlanta 5-1, St. Louis edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2 and Philadelphia rapped Montreal 7-1. Pittsburgh was rained out at New York.

"It was real nice hitting that homer, especially after they knocked me down so many times," Colbert, whose blast sent the Astros reeling to their eighth loss in the last nine games. "I don't know what it is but they knocked me down twice tonight and they did it three times last night."

Colbert, who appeared in 19 games with the Astros three years ago and got in to 20 more last season, batting .133 overall, has had hands broken twice

Tribe Loses Despite Show By Harrelson

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ken Harrelson made his debut with the Cleveland Indians Thursday night and did turn things around for the team at the beginning.

But it wasn't long before the Indians were headed back in the same old direction and they dropped an 11-3 decision to the New York Yankees for their 12th loss in 13 games.

The Hawk hit a triple in his first time at bat in a Cleveland uniform and scored the Indians' first run. He wound up the evening with a triple and single in four trips to the plate, one run scored and one driven in. In commenting on the six-player trade last Saturday that brought Harrelson to the Indians from the Boston Red Sox, Manager Alvin Dark of the Indians said:

"In Harrelson we've got a guy who can turn this club right around."

The Hawk started inauspiciously by losing Joe Pepitone's liner to right field in the lights in the second inning and it went for a triple, but the Yankees didn't score.

by tight pitches in the minors. "They are trying to pitch me inside," he said. "I used to chase a lot of bad balls, but I think it's the hands. One or two times might be an accident. But I don't like to get thrown at. I don't think anybody does."

Colbert, who started the night with one RBI in 12 games, also poked an infield single against his former mates, raising his batting average to .272.

Brown's second inning homer off Houston starter Jim Ray gave the Padres a 1-0 lead but the Astros tied it in the fourth when Denis Menke homered against rookie Al Santorini.

Ray, struck on the right elbow by Gonzalez' first inning liner, left the game in the third and Santorini departed in the seventh with a blister on a finger on his right hand. Veteran Jack Baldschun was the winner in relief.

Lee May drove in three runs with a triple and his third homer as the Reds chased left-hander Claude Osteen and built an 8-4 lead before surviving a late Los Angeles comeback.

May's two-run triple and a two-run single by Johnny Bench were the big hits in a five-run third inning explosion that sent Cincinnati in front to stay. Bob Tolan also homered for the Reds.

Bill Sudakis hit his first homer for the Dodgers, who wasted 17 hits—four of them by Wes Parker.

Jack Hiatt's first 1969 homer, a two-run tie-breaking shot in the seventh, carried the Giants past Atlanta. Gaylord Perry scattered eight hits for his third victory in five decisions. Loser Milt Pappas allowed two hits until the seventh, when Willie McCovey's single nipped a scoreless deadlock.

The Giants wrapped it up with three runs in the eighth before Perry lost his shutout on ninth inning doubles by Orlando Cepeda and Bob Didier.

Dave Giusti fired a three-hit ter as the Cardinals extended Chicago's losing string to four games. Julian Javier cracked four hits and scored two St. Louis runs, helping Giusti recover from a 2-0 first inning deficit.

Giusti, 2-1, retired 13 straight in one stretch while outpitching left-hander Ken Holtzman.

The Phillies built a 2-1 edge over Montreal and then flattened the fumbling Expos with five runs in the ninth. Errors by relief pitchers Carroll Sembera and Jerry Robertson and third baseman Coco Laboy contributed to the ninth inning Philadelphia flurry. Winner Rick Wise checked the Expos on seven hits, including a run-scoring triple by Laboy in the seventh.

Ohio North-South All-Star Cage Game Set For June 21

By HAL PARIS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some of the biggest names in high school basketball converge in Marion June 21 for the annual North-South All-Star Classic. "We've never had an All-Star game with so many attractions," co-manager Dan Baker of Marion Harding High School said Wednesday.

No one is about to seriously challenge Baker on that statement.

Ohio's bumper crop of prep stars should play to a full house in Marion's 3,600-seat Coliseum. College scouts are expected to be out in force in a last ditch bid to recruit whatever talent is left.

Among the 20 players are no less than half a dozen Class AA all-state performers and one Class A All-Ohio.

The North team, which has won three straight and leads the series 6-3, is a strong favorite to capture the summer cage spectacle.

For a starter, Yankee Coach Bob Rupert of Canton McKinley and Leigh Klingensmith of Springfield Local, can count on 7-footer Luke Witte of Marlinton; 6-7 Nick Weatherspoon of Canton McKinley; 6-1 Dave Merchant of Marion Harding; Abe Steward of Toledo Libbey and Tim Andrews of Lima Bath.

The latter pair were second team AP All-Ohio. Both barely missed making the first squad.

South Coaches Bob Hart of Columbus East and Arch Justus of Portsmouth Clay have their own big guns. These include all-staters Ed Ratleff, the 6-6 hot-shot who led Columbus East to the AA championship; prolific Allan Hornyak of Bellaire St. John's, who led the state in scoring with a 42 point average; and Derrek Dickey, the Cincinnati Purcell standout headed for the University of Cincinnati.

The Rebels also boast Nick Conner, Ratleff's teammate at East and rebounder deluxe Willie Townsend of Hamilton Garfield, both of whom were second team all-state selections.

Rounding out the North squad are George Trogot of Champion; Ken Andregg, Lakewood; Randy Caipen, Tallmadge; Dave Cres, Coshocton and Dan Thallman, the Bloomville ace who was Class A Player of the Year.

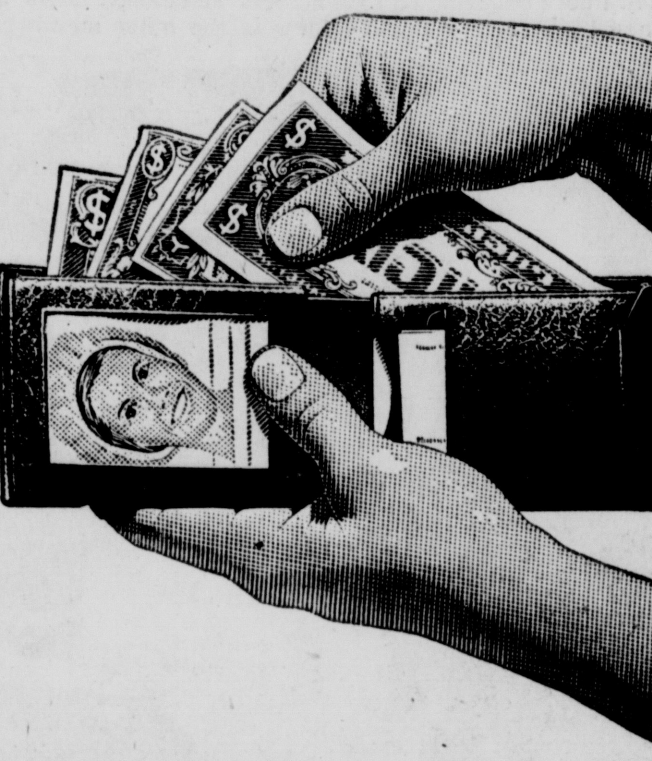

Filling out the South roster are Steve Hess of Greenon; Gary Lawrence of Granville; Skip Downard, Wellston; Dave Blevins, Portsmouth Clay and Bob McEvoy, Zanesville.

Hornyak already has announced his intention to attend Ohio State while Andrews is headed for Kentucky. Hundreds of colleges have been chasing Witte and Weatherspoon and reports persist that both will enroll at Ohio State.

Public ticket sale starts May 1 and Baker said they will be issued on a first come, first served basis. Ducats can be obtained by sending a check and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to North-South All-Star Game, Marion, Ohio. Reserved seats are $2.50, general admission $1.50.

Elk Bowlers Honored Nate Colbert, San Diego Whip Astros, 6-4

NEW OFFICERS — Circleville BPO Elks Bowling League elected the officers for the 1969-70 season Thursday. They are, from the left, Lloyd Edgington, vice president; Ross Spalding, secretary; Harry Clifton, treasurer, and standing, Lloyd Minor, president.

THE WINNERS — The members of the winning team of the Circleville BPO Elks No. 77 Bowling League were honored Thursday at a banquet held at the lodge. They are, from the left, Charles Bartholomew, Ben Johnson, Bill McGinnis, Lester Wolford and Ross Spalding.

The Circleville BPO Elks bowling league held its annual awards banquet Thursday in the lodge.

A bowling ball, donated by John Dietrich, manager of Circle D Lanes, was given as a door prize. It was won by Kelly Boyer.

Team number 7, composed of Ross Spalding, Lester Wolford, Charles Bartholomew, William McGinnis and Ben Johnson was the winning team.

John Happenny rolled the high series, 650 and the high individual game, 258, during the season. He had the high average of 180.

TEAM No. 4 had the high team series of 3,047. Members of the team are Robert Moon, George Eitel, Carl Bach, Leon Sims and Dave Crawford. Team No. 2 had the high single game during the season of 1,079. Members of team 2 are John Happenny, Harry Clifton, Don Mancini, Walter Garner and William Betts.

David Crawford was the most improved bowler of the year.

The bowlers were served a roast beef dinner prepared by Harry Clifton and his kitchen crew.

Officers elected for the 1969-70 season are Lloyd Minor, president; Lloyd Edgington, vice president; Ross Spalding, secretary; Harry Clifton, treasurer.

Logan Elm Stops Vikings In 7-2 Tilt

Logan Elm defeated Teays Valley, 7-2, in a baseball game played on the Braves' diamond.

Danny Fausnaugh was the winning pitcher. Going the route on the mound for Logan Elm, he walked four, fanned 10 and allowed only two hits.

Tom Pickering was the losing hurler. He walked two, fanned seven and gave up nine hits.

Steve Sykes, Fausnaugh and Dave Reichelderfer all had two hits, for the Braves. One of Reichelderfer's was a double.

BANGING out singles were Steve Curtiss, K. C. Jones, and Pete Strawser.

Teays Valley scored its two runs in the first inning on two walks and a hit.

The Braves scored one in the third, one in the fifth and five in the sixth.

Logan Elm hosts Piketon tonight and on Tuesday hosts the winner of the Canal Winchester-Plains central district baseball game.

Canadiens Defeat Bruins In Playoffs

BOSTON (AP) — Rogation Vachon still doesn't know how he stopped some of the shots the Boston Bruins fired at him Thursday night—but stop them he did, to move the Montreal Canadiens one step closer to another Stanley Cup championship.

"I never saw a couple of those shots," the acrobatic goaltender said after shutting the Bruins out for almost 89 minutes as Montreal came from behind for a 2-1 overtime victory to wrap up the East Division best-of-7 final series 4-2.

The Teays Valley Golf team defeated West Jefferson, 9-0, Thursday on the Upper Lansdowne Golf Links.

Mark Leatherwood was medalist for the match, scoring a three over par 39 on the course. His opponent, John Thomas, shot a 50.

Kelly Leatherwood shot a 42 compared to a 52 for his opponent, Chip Parsons.

Ed Combs toured the nine holes with a 48 while his opponent, Mike Redman, had a 51.

JAY Bastian shot a 46 and his opponent, Matt Ericson, a 54.

The Vikings' fifth man, Dale Bastian, shot a 48 while Buzz Webb, the fifth man for West Jefferson, shot a 63. Their scores didn't count in the final tabulation.

The Vikings have a 4-3 record in dual competition for the season. In other recent matches, they lost to Franklin Heights, 7 1/2-5 1/2, and defeated Groveport, 6 1/2-2 1/2.

The Teays Valley reserve team lost to Groveport, 7 1/2-1 1/2. Tonight the Vikings host Unioto at Lansdowne.

National League Lead On The Line

LOS ANGELES (AP)—First place in the National League's West Division will be on the line tonight when the Los Angeles Dodgers host the Atlanta Braves.

Both clubs missed an opportunity to grab the lead for themselves Thursday, the Braves bowing to the Giants in San Francisco, 5-1, while the Dodgers, despite rattling Cincinnati pitching for 17 hits, suffered an 8-7 setback.

Lakeland Miss Beulah Winner

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lakeland Miss showed a burst of speed in the homestretch to finish in a dead heat with Kenta Fella in the six-furlong feature race at Beulah Park Thursday. Oakland Defeats Minnesota, 6-4

By MIKE BRYSON

Associated Press Sports Writer Reggie Jackson wasn't much of a hitter until...Dave Boswell served up a pair of good pitches, and Dick Woodson a couple of close ones. Then the 6-foot-2, 197-pound outfielder really did his thing.

Boswell's two tosses resulted in a pair of homers by Jackson in Oakland's 6-4 victory over Minnesota Thursday; Woodson's pitches resulted in a black eye for the Twins' hurler, suffered during a brief, but furious, little bout with Jackson on the pitchers' mound.

Jackson, who took only a .146 average into the game, charged to the mound after successive pitches by the flame-throwing Woodson whizzed by and over his head in the fifth inning.

"There was a lot of velocity on those balls," said Jackson. "The first pitch stunned me. He can throw so fast."

While Jackson was attempting to tackle Woodson, players from both benches streamed into the field in an attempt to separate the two fighters.

Jackson was ejected and Woodson was lifted for a pinch hitter in the bottom of the inning.

In other American League action, young Bobby Murcer hit two more homers as New York trounced Cleveland 11-3 for the Indians' 12th loss in 13 games and hot Baltimore won its 12th in 15 starts, checking Detroit 5-2 on Dave McNally's five-hitter.

Washington's game at Boston was rained out. The other teams were idle.

Jackson said he "didn't want to fight" Woodson. "That's why I tackled him. I wanted to show him I meant business. I had to protect myself."

"If there were 10,000 people wanted me out there and that's here today, 9,999 of them knew what they got. I lost my temper. I would have hit three home runs otherwise."

A's Manager Hank Bauer supported his outfielder. "I don't blame him," said Bauer. "I would have done the same thing."

Asked if he thought Woodson was throwing at Jackson, Bauer replied, "Definitely."

However, Twins Manager Billy Martin said Woodson "wasn't throwing at him. He was told to pitch him up and in. The first was behind and the second a foot over his head."

Woodson said he tried "to pitch him inside. The first two balls he hit out (off Boswell) were low and away. My cleats caught on the rubber on the first pitch and the second was way over his head. He (Jackson) just lost his head."

Woodson suffered a gash on his right eyelid where he said "Jackson tried to take my eye out with his finger."

Jackson slammed a two-run homer in the first, then had a solo blast in the third. Sal Bando also homered for the A's in the first, while Rick Monday contributed three doubles and two RBIs.

Tony Oliva extended his hitting streak to 12 straight games with a two-run homer off winner "Blue Moon" Odom in the fifth. Ken Harrelson, who retired then unretired after Boston dealt him to Cleveland, had a triple and a single in his debut as an Indian, but Yankee lefty Fritz Peterson, 2-2, yielded only four other hits.

Meanwhile, Murcer, touted as a replacement for Mickey Maule, cracked a homer in the fifth after Jerry Kenney's single, then followed up in the next inning with another two-run job—his seventh of the young season. Dick Simpson also had a three-run double for the Yankees, and Jack Gibbs had a two-run single.

Harrelson tripled in his first appearance at the plate, scoring on an infield hit by Tony Horton.

Baltimore's McNally, now 3-0, fanned seven but yielded solo homers to Dick McAuliffe and Al Kaline.

The Orioles had only four hits off Earl Wilson, who has a 20-6 career record against Baltimore, before chasing him in the seventh. But they were timely. Frank Robinson lashed his seventh homer in the first inning, and Boog Powell sacrificed in another in the fourth, breaking a 1-1 tie.

Dave Johnson had a two-run double in the seventh after Powell singled home the final run in the eighth. In the innings that Baltimore didn't score, Wilson retired the side in order.

Canadiens Defeat Bruins In Playoffs

BOSTON (AP) — Rogation Vachon still doesn't know how he stopped some of the shots the Boston Bruins fired at him Thursday night—but stop them he did, to move the Montreal Canadiens one step closer to another Stanley Cup championship.

"I never saw a couple of those shots," the acrobatic goaltender said after shutting the Bruins out for almost 89 minutes as Montreal came from behind for a 2-1 overtime victory to wrap up the East Division best-of-7 final series 4-2.

107 W. Main Street, City. One of the better, more attractive downtown buildings in our city. Large, concrete floored basement that includes toilet facilities of lavatory and commode, built-in safe, gas fired hot water heating system. The floor joists are heavy and well supported. Ground level has large, high-ceilinged front room with finished floor; in back thereof are a small room for consultation or other uses, walk-in storage, and a large director type room. These rooms in rear and the hallway thereto are carpeted. The mezzanine at rear and above contains 3 large rooms, lavatory and commode, day-light from private alley at the rear of building. The front of the building is encased with rich stone. Large plate glass, and a glass door in front. If you can use a good, sound building in the 100% area of downtown
Circleville, you must inspect this one.

Trailer Court with 31 locations and room for more.

Downtown Restaurant that has been operating for years and years. Business only, for sale. If you have the know how and like the business you should make it here.

THE OHIO REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT COMPANY

A REAL ESTATE INVESTMENT TRUST

- Provides investors with an opportunity to own an interest in prime real estate, principally student housing at Miami University, a new Holiday Inn and a large nursing home and an office building.
- Attractively priced at $11.00 per share to return a generous 7% yield, of which approximately 92% is currently free of Federal income tax as a return of capital due to depreciation allowances.
- Potential income and equity growth through new acquisitions and mortgage retirement.
- Prime properties with most tenants on long-term leases.
- Sound management by Trustees with outstanding records of success.

This is neither an offer to buy or sell Trust Certificates. This offer is made by prospectus only to Residents of the State of Ohio. A copy of the prospectus may be obtained by writing or phoning:

CHS Senior Class Play Is 'Refreshing As Lemonade'

By JEANNE BACH

Refreshing as a frosty lemonade when it's "110 in the Shade", this year's CHS Senior Class musical will delight you.

Even if you do not have sons or daughters involved, you will thoroughly enjoy this well staged, imaginative presentation.

It is really rather amazing and hard to believe that these are high school seniors with just seven weeks of preparation behind them. Mrs. Doane Wiggins, director and Pat Glitt, her student director, have done an excellent job.

It is reassuring to observe (in contrast to the hippie image), how well behaved, clean, responsible and handsome they all are. I really don't know them all — but I love them all — they're great.

The story is about Lizzie Curry (Marsha McFadden, who is mentally conditioned in the power of negative thinking, mainly by her brother, Noah (Joe Tomlinson).

He says she is plain and she believes him. Marsha's part is difficult and her performance enchanting.

Lizzie's father, H. C. (Mark Ralston; and younger brother Jimmy (Chris MacKenzie) comprise the rest of her family. It is very comfortable for them to have her take care of them. Lizzie, however, has a dream of a family of her own.

Joe Tomlinson, Chris MacKenzie and Mark Ralston rate raves for their fine performances.

Enter Bill Starbuck (Dan Thompson), as the fly-by night rainmaker who changes the lives of the small town folks. Dan cuts a dashing figure and is just terrific.

Jim Samuel as File, shows that he is just as much at home on the stage singing as he is on the football field.

SNOOKIE Updegraff (Holly Bach) spills her sparkle all over the stage for everyone's delight.

Eddie Wells — you gotta see to believe.

Cast members include Bill Joyce, Phil Diehl, Nancy Benzenberg, Cynthia Brackett, Marsha Willoughby, Bob Perkins, Jackie Ullman, Jack Robinson, Marianne Hoffman and Nikkie Matz.

Marsha Baker, Nancy Butz, Sharon Archer, Dave Bowers, Marion Brehmer, Nancy Butz, Debbie Dick, Denise Downey, and Kathy Fuller.

Lorna Griffith, Mike Humphries, Steve Lingo, Randy Martin, Vivian May, Beth McCoskey, Monica Salyer, Mike Smith and Laura Whaley.

Mr. William O'Neil directed the school orchestra for the musical.

OF particular beauty is a solo and dance sequence by Marsha MacFadden and Nancy Benzenberg.

An interesting sidelight was Patty Painter's complete absorption in her work as piano accompanist and "Boo" Cook on the bass keeping time with her chewing gum.

5 Persons Arrested In Slayings

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Five persons were arrested by police Thursday in connection with the deaths of two Cleveland car wash attendants.

They were shot about an hour after a woman customer claimed a gun had been stolen from her car while it was being washed.

The victims were identified as Dale Terrell, 45, and Louis Baker, 50.

A .25 caliber automatic which the woman claimed had been stolen was found in one of Baker's boots at the morgue.

Arrested in two separate raids on East Side apartments were the woman customer, her common law husband and three juveniles.

No charges were filed immediately.

FIRST LOVE — Lizzie experiences her first love with Bill Starbuck in the CHS Senior Class play "110 In The Shade." Dan Thompson plays Starbuck and Marsha McFadden portrays Lizzie in the production at the high school Friday and Saturday nights.

Daylight Saving

their time zone has been changed from central to eastern.

Then there's Michigan. The federal Uniform Time Act provides that a state must observe daylight saving time from 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in April until 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October, unless it exempts itself by state law.

Two years ago Michigan exempted itself. Last year, however, the state went back on daylight time when the exemption law was nullified by petitions which forced a referendum.

In November, voters rejected daylight time, in effect reinstating the law, and putting the state back on standard time.

Michigan's Lower Peninsula lies in the eastern zone while the Upper Peninsula, a large but sparsely settled region, is in the central zone.

Some of the eastern counties in the Upper Peninsula ignore the zone lines and keep their clocks set for eastern time.

Judging from a recent vote by county supervisors in the western part of the Upper Peninsula, persons there, too, prefer eastern time.

"They'll do whatever they damn please," said one source.

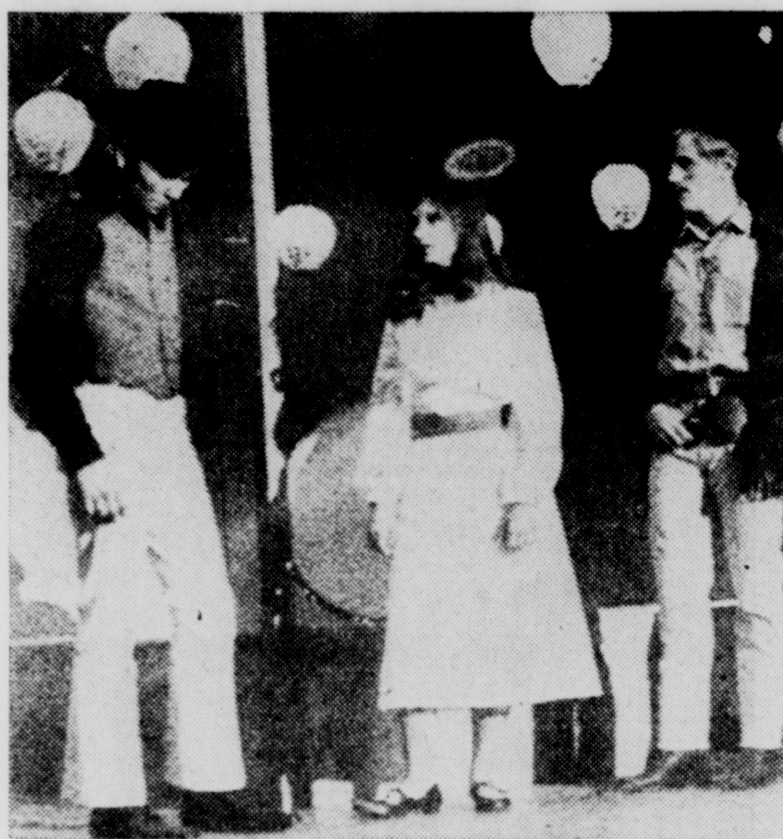

Or take Kansas. Most of the state is in the central zone and will go to central daylight time. Twenty counties and parts of four others in the western part of the state are in the mountain zone, but only two observe mountain time during the winter. The rest set their clocks to central time.

Finally, a look at Arizona which is exempted from daylight time by state law. The Navajo Indian reservation, not bound by the law, goes on daylight time. But right in the middle of the Navajo reservation is the Hopi reservation—and that stays on standard time.

On Sundav all or parts of seven of those western counties will switch to mountain daylight time while the rest go to central daylight time.

Finally, a look at Arizona which is exempted from daylight time by state law. The Navajo Indian reservation, not bound by the law, goes on daylight time. But right in the middle of the Navajo reservation is the Hopi reservation—and that stays on standard time.

50-Year Fete Set By K Of P

Discussion of coming events was the main topic of business during the Monday meeting of Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias, according to Chancellor Commander Milo M. Wise.

Final plans for the 50-year banquet honoring Leroy May and Milton Manson were made. The banquet will be 7 p.m. Monday. It is open to knights and prospective members.

Grand Chancellor of Ohio, Harold L. Peters, will be present to make presentations to the 50-year members.

Leon Delaney, Springfield, will be in attendance and show movies of the Pythian Home at Springfield. The Pythian Sisters are in charge of the preparation and serving of the banquet.

Wise also announced that Champion-Dowdell Lodge, Columbus, is chartering a bus to Cincinnati Reds baseball game June 22 for Knights and sons.

The new Italian National Bibliography alphabetically lists printed works published in Italy between 1886 and 1957. The set contains nearly 650,000 entries and fills 39 volumes. It sells for $1,980.

CHS Senior Class Play Is 'Refreshing As Lemonade'

By JEANNE BACH

Refreshing as a frosty lemonade when its, "110 in the Shade", this year's CHS Senior Class musical will delight you.

Even if you do not have sons or daughters involved, you will thoroughly enjoy this well staged, imaginative presentation.

It is really rather amazing and hard to believe that these are high school seniors with just seven weeks of preparation behind them. Mrs. Doane Wiggins, director and Pat Glitt, her student director, have done an excellent job.

It is reassuring to observe (in contrast to the hippie image), how well behaved, clean, responsible and handsome they all are. I really don't know them all — but I love them all — they're great.

The story is about Lizzie Curry (Marsha McFadden, who is mentally conditioned in the power of negative thinking, mainly by her brother, Noah (Joe Tomlinson)).

He says she is plain and she believes him. Marsha's part is difficult and her performance enchanting.

Lizzie's father, H. C. (Mark Ralston), and younger brother Jim my (Chris MacKenzie) comprise the rest of her family. It is very comfortable for them to have her take care of them. Lizzie, however, has a dream of a family of her own.

Joe Tomlinson, Chris MacKenzie and Mark Ralston rave for their fine performances.

Enter Bill Starbuck (Dan Thompson), as the fly-by night rainmaker who changes the lives of the small town folks. Dan cuts a dashing figure and is just terrific.

Jim Samuel as Fie, shows that he is just as much at home on the stage singing as he is on the football field.

SNOOKIE Updegraff (Holly Bach) spills her sparkle all over the stage for everyone's delight.

Eddie Wells — you gotta see to believe.

Cast members include Bill Joyce, Phil Diehl, Nancy Benzenberg, Cynthia Brackett, Marsha Wlloughby, Bob Perkins, Jackie Ullman, Jack Robinson, Marianne Hoffman and Nikkie Matz.

Marsha Baker, Nancy Butz, Sharon Archer, Dave Bowers, Marion Brehmer, Nancy Butz, Debbie Dick, Denise Downey, and Kathy Fuller.

Lorna Griffith, Mike Humphries, Steve Lingo, Randy Martin, Vivian May, Beth McCoskey, Monica Salyer, Mike Smith and Laura Whaley.

Mr. William O'Neil directed the school orchestra for the musical.

OF particular beauty is a solo and dance sequence by Marsha MacFadden and Nancy Benzenberg.

An interesting sidelight was Patty Painter's complete absorption in her work as piano accompanist and "Boo" Cook on the bass keeping time with her chewing gum.

5 Persons Arrested In Slayings

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Five persons were arrested by police Thursday in connection with the deaths of two Cleveland car wash attendants.

They were shot about an hour after a woman customer claimed a gun had been stolen from her car while it was being washed.

The victims were identified as Dale Terrell, 45, and Louis Baker, 50.

A .25 caliber automatic which the woman claimed had been stolen was found in one of Baker's boots at the morgue.

Arrested in two separate raids on East Side apartments were the woman customer, her common law husband and three juveniles.

No charges were filed immediately.

Daylight Saving

their time zone has been changed from central to eastern.

Then there's Michigan. The federal Uniform Time Act provides that a state must observe daylight saving time from 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in April until 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October, unless it exempts itself by state law.

Two years ago Michigan exempted itself. Last year, however, the state went back on daylight time when the exemption law was nullified by petitions which forced a referendum.

In November, voters rejected daylight time, in effect reinstating the law, and putting the state back on standard time.

Michigan's Lower Peninsula lies in the eastern zone while the Upper Peninsula, a large but sparsely settled region, is in the central zone.

Some of the eastern counties in the Upper Peninsula ignore the zone lines and keep their clocks set for eastern time.

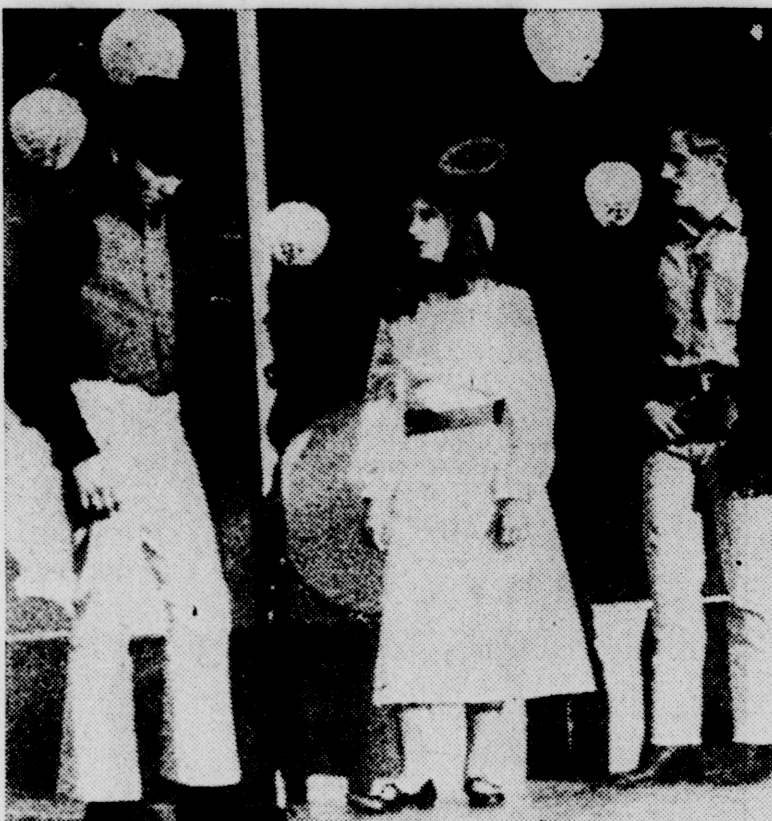

Judging from a recent vote by county supervisors in the western part of the Upper Peninsula, persons there, too, prefer eastern time.

"They'll do whatever they damn please," said one source.

Or take Kansas. Most of the state is in the central zone and will go to central daylight time. Twenty counties and parts of four others in the western part of the state are in the mountain zone, but only two observe mountain time during the winter. The rest set their clocks to central time.

On Sunday all or parts of seven of those western counties will switch to mountain daylight time while the rest go to central daylight time.

Finally, a look at Arizona which is exempted from daylight time by state law. The Navajo Indian reservation, not bound by the law, goes on daylight time. But right in the middle of the Navajo reservation is the Hopi reservation—and that stays on standard time.
